

Borough Will Launch Fight Against Insects

By ROBERT E. MOYER
(Mercury Staff Writer)

The borough will wage war on ticks and mosquitoes this summer. Council's health and sanitation committee last night decided to purchase a fog machine to combat the Spring and Summer pests and directed Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden to seek donations from Pottstown industries to help pay for the cost of the machine.

For several years the Junior Chamber of Commerce directed the anti-mosquito and tick campaigns in the borough.

Money was collected in the different sections of the borough and spraying was carried out from the air.

DOEHLER AGREES TO PAY BILL FOR FIRE AT DUMP

Borough Garbage Collector Promises to Check All Refuse

Doehler-Jarvis division will pay a bill of $24 for the fire on the borough garbage dump this past March 2.

C. Roy Bush, personnel director for the local plant agreed last night at a meeting of health and sanitation committee to pay the bill submitted by Donald E. Woodley, borough garbage collector for the firm's unlimited dumping privileges at the East End dump.

Woodley promised to have a man at the dump check all debris hauled there by the Doehler firm to make sure there is no hot material in the trash.

Bush said the Doehler firm pays $15 a month to make sure the refuse is checked when it is hauled there.

HE WAS ASSURED of unlimited dumping privileges and inspection of all material taken to the dump. Then he promised to pay the bill which Woodley incurred fighting.

Residents Volunteer For Clean-Up Drive In West Pottsgrove

West Pottsgrove residents were quick to answer a call for community pride yesterday.

Peter Dori, president of the township board of commissioners said that the clean-up drive scheduled for the township from April 19 to 25 has met with tremendous approval.

"I never thought people would be so much in favor of a project," Dori said.

He said they had contacted about 70 persons yesterday and that all of them were one hundred percent behind the project.

"THAT FIRST STORY" printed in The Mercury really brought results," he said.

Among those who volunteered their help in the campaign to clean the township's back yards, alleys, streets, cellars and attics were:

Paul Miller, Boy Scout master; Daniel Wren, health officer; Roy Eagle, Anthony Cori, Harry Gerardi, Armino Panfil, John Seranti, Fire Chief Russell West and John Yarmush.

The township has asked residents to clean up their cellars, attics, back yards, streets, get rid of outdoor privies and clean alleys.

AFTER THE week long drive is over, the township health officer will make an inspection of the area. Residents who do not co-operate in the elimination of health hazards will be cited for violations.

The other men, besides Dori, on the board of commissioners are Elmer E. Hampton, Charles E. Frech, William Regan Jr., and Charles Kady.

Don announced yesterday that a truck he owns would be available during the week of the drive to anyone who cares to use it to haul trash.

THE WEATHER

For Eastern Pennsylvania: Partly cloudy and mild with a few scattered showers likely today. Cooler tonight. Tomorrow, considerable cloudiness and cooler.

Steel Fragment Strikes Worker at Local Plant

A piece of steel struck a Bethlehem Steel company worker in the cheek last night at 10:30 o'clock while he was driving out rivets with a sledge hammer.

Alfred Harrison, Boyertown RD 52, was treated at Pottstown hospital dispensary for a deep gash on his left cheek. Eight stitches were required to close the gaping wound.

BUYING WAVE SWEEPS GOODS FROM STORES

Local Businessmen Claim Near Record Volume Of Business

THROGS CROWD TOWN SHOPS TO NEAR CAPACITY

By CHARLES T. HEARN
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Holidays roll around so quickly people generally do not realize they have not made preparations for them until the last minute.

And the rush in the borough business district yesterday to buy hats, shoes, blouses, shirts and ties and other accessories proves that Easter is no exception.

Throgs jammed the stores in the business district, from the latest specialty shop to the largest department store. All stores did a greater volume of business than since the years immediately following World War II and some established records.

The buying fervor in Pottstown went along with the rest of the United States. Stores throughout the country reported increased business activity this season.

JACOB HOFFMAN, manager of the New York Department store, 235-44 High street, said last night: "We were turning cars away from our parking lot."

The store did a terrific volume of business. The unit sales were much greater than they have been in years."

Last minute shoppers crowded around counters displaying children's wear, men's shirts and neckties and women's dresses and blouses.

"We did our suit business last week before Palm Sunday," Hoffman said. "This week, accessories have been the biggest items sold."

Men and women customers alike kept employees of the W. L. Stone and Son store, 210 High street, busy yesterday.

Karl R. Stone, owner, said in spite of the fact that the store was closed between noon and 3 p. m. his preliminary figures for the day indicate the jewelry store may have hit a record.

"NOT ONLY IS there a buying rush for Easter jewelry but also for Confirmation presents," he explained. Women are buying a lot of costume jewelry to wear with their Easter outfits and men seem to be buying the more expensive presents."

Mrs. Thelma Van Sandt and Mrs. Dorine Selig, co-managers of Millers Candy store, 403 High street, expected a rush at the store yesterday. They had

Ukraine Easter Eggs Are Love Notes in Colorful Motifs

You won't find eggs like those owned by a Spring City man on an Easter egg hunt.

Ivan Heigel, 139 Pikefield avenue, has two dozen intricately painted eggs designed according to an age-old Ukrainian custom.

A collector for the past 20 years, Heigel has acquired more than a hundred of the colorful symbols of the Easter season. Most of his supply has come from a Ukrainian family in Philadelphia that has modernized the ancient process of decorating.

His collection diminished throughout the years because he ran into problems of finding the correct manner of sorting them. In the summer the egg in its sometimes expands and cracks the shell.

HEIGEL'S DAUGHTER, Miss Ellis Pacioni, 826 Walnut street, Roversford, said the eggs represent symbols of love from young girls to their sweethearts.

"All the little designs stand for something," she explained. On one of the eggs two X's side by side stand for two lovers. Other symbols are further signs of affection.

Part of the colorful and intricately designed Ukrainian Easter eggs in the collection of Ivan W. Heigel, 139 Pikefield avenue Spring City, are above. Heigel has been collecting the miniature pieces of art for the past 20 years.

Easter Eggs Adorn Tree

An old Pennsylvania German custom is kept alive this Easter season by little children in East Greenville. From the hills in the country they have snipped a sassafras tree. Attached to the branches of the young tree, on display in the East Greenville kindergarten are many painted eggs. Three children working on the tree are (left to right) Susan Ann Folk, 210 Jefferson street, Brian Snyder, 222 Jefferson street, and Kathleen Rehak, 218 Jefferson street, East Greenville.

Egg Trees Popular in East Greenville In Tradition of Holland and Germany

If Santa Claus would come to in school and home in the upper East Greenville on Easter he would shake his shaggy head in disbelief.

Never heard of an Easter tree? The old man would mutter. But then maybe I'm getting a Christmas tree. To some it has become more important because the Easter tree represents more work and more craftsmanship than its Yule counterpart.

It all started this egg tree fad four years ago in the classroom of Mrs. John B. Grubb, teacher at East Greenville kindergarten and an old fashioned artist who likes to think of Easter as something more than the glitzy and glow of merchandise purchased in the department store.

She spends many hours before Easter preparing for the holiday.

Four years ago she indoctrinated kindergarten pupils with the Easter tree. This year pupils of the Second and Third grades in the East Greenville elementary school have egg trees and in many Upper Perkiomen homes the old German custom is taking hold.

On the slim branches of a sassafras tree taken from the hills along the Perkiomen more than 30 painted eggs make anyone unfamiliar with the custom wonder whether it's time for Santa Claus or the Easter bunny.

SIX YEARS AGO Mrs. Grubb erected the first egg tree in her home after she had seen a tree at the home of Mrs. George Iredell Zionsville. Mrs. Iredell, a German, was bride brought the painted egg custom across the Atlantic from her native land.

Mrs. Grubb explained. Then her neighbor John Gehris (Bechtelville RD 1) told her his mother used to paint eggs many years ago.

"Evidently in those days the name for the custom comes from the Ukrainian word 'to write.' Even today, some eggs have messages in the Ukrainian language on them."

In the ancient method wax and vegetable dyes are used to color the eggs. Wax is put on the eggs in the spots the decorator wishes to keep the natural color. The entire egg is then dipped in yellow dye and dried. Wax is again put on the egg on the spots which are to remain yellow.

THEN IT IS DIPPED in another color. Darker colors are used as the design progresses. To obtain lighter shades on the portions already dyed, it is necessary to bleach the colors with sauerkraut juice and other bleaching agents passed down by Ukrainian families from generation to generation.

Another explanation for the color is that the eggs are made of wood.

Churches Prepare For Easter Rites

With predictions of cool but generally sunny weather setting the mood, Pottstown churches are ready to throw off the solemn austerities of Lent in brilliant Easter services tomorrow.

Capacity crowds are expected to throng to ceremonies that will mark the most joyous day of the year for Christians—the Resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Yesterday, the most solemn day in the liturgy of the church—the day Christ was crucified—was marked by heavily attended services in the borough's churches.

At First Methodist church, where eight Pottstown churches of different denominations took part in a three-hour long devotional service from noon to 3 p. m., more than 425 persons packed the church.

In another three-hour service at Zion's Reformed church, where the Reformed churches of the borough met in a union service, more than 400 persons were present.

AT EMMANUEL LUTHERAN church, the seven area Lutheran churches combined in one three-hour service from noon to 3 p. m., and drew more than 300 people.

The morning Mass at St. Aloysius Catholic church of the Roman rite was attended by more than 300. And that number packed the church for the afternoon Way of the Cross services and again for the evening three-hour service.

The congregations taking part in the joint service at First Methodist church included First Baptist, First Brethren, Baptist and Salem Evangelical United Brethren, Trinity Evangelical Congregational, First Presbyterian, Seales Memorial Methodist and the host church.

Besides congregational singing and special musical presentations, short meditations on the seven words of the cross were presented by pastors of the congregations represented.

THE SPEAKERS were the Rev. Maurice E. Hoover, pastor of Seales church; the Rev. Ralph R. Frey, pastor of First Brethren; the Rev. Donald T. Floyd, pastor of Trinity Evangelical; the Rev. John L. Smoker, pastor of Baltimore; the Rev. A. Burtis, Hallock Jr., pastor of First Presbyterian; the Rev. John F. Wilson, pastor of Salem EUB; and the Rev. Laurence T. Beers.

The Rev. Martin I. Brinton, pastor of the host church, read the scriptures in the service and the organist for the three hours was Mrs. Robert Kichline.

The seven pastors taking part in the services at Zion's Reformed church were the Rev. F. Reed Teetsworth, St. James Reformed; Limerick; the Rev. Franklin I. Sheeder, Trinity Reformed; Collegeville; the Rev. Edward L. Schlingman, Shenkel Reformed; the Rev. John B. Frantz, Trinity Reformed; the Rev. William A. Solly, New Hanover Reformed; the Rev. Howard A. Kosman, of the host church; and the Rev. Paul C. Scheerer, St. John's and St. Paul's Reformed.

Handful of Workers Will Be Affected by Halt at Jacobs' Plant

Only about 30 workers at Jacobs Aircraft Engine company's plant will be affected by the deferment of production for General Electric company.

This was announced yesterday by a spokesman for Jacobs who said that the 70 will be notified shortly by the company of the situation. The spokesman emphasized that the affect on the men will be temporary.

The situation arose when General Electric one of Jacobs' biggest customers, wired the company, calling for an immediate halt of all production for GE.

The temporary halt was caused by the strike at General Electric's Evansville, Ohio plant where jet airplanes are made.

THERE HAS been no cancellation of orders. The word cancellation was used inadvertently in a headline over yesterday's news story in The Mercury.

As the news story (which did not use the word) pointed out, the stop production order was the result of the GE strike which went into its 21st day yesterday.

The company has pledged that any layoffs made necessary by the temporary situation will be on a seniority basis in accordance with the company's contract with Local 2802 United Steel Workers (CIO).

The one new development yesterday in the GE strike at Evansville was the announcement that the union there will hold a meeting of its membership over the weekend and that the GE union (Continued on Page Three)

COUNCIL GROUP TO PICK 2 FOR POLICE POSTS

Committee to Name Men From Eligibility List Of Commission

Borough council's police committee will recommend two men, instead of the scheduled one, for patrolmen's posts when it meets Monday.

This was announced yesterday by Earl R. Strange, committee chairman who said the extra man will be named to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation announced Thursday night of Patrolman Frank J. Hall.

Hall was the tenth man to resign from the force in the past 2½ years.

Council will act on the committee's recommendations at council's April 13 meeting.

THE TWO RECOMMENDATIONS will be made from the list of three men on the eligibility list drawn up by the Civil Service Commission. A replacement for Michael Fern, another patrolman who resigned the past January will be named.

The three eligible men are: Daniel W. Kegel, 24 West Fifth street, Royersford; Edward Kowalski, 114 South Franklin street, and Sandy Laghi, 444 Cherry street.

Hall like most men who resigned before him, cited lack of a future and too much night duty as the main reasons for his leaving. His resignation will be effective Monday.

Taste for Iron in Diet Results in Operation For Guernsey Cow

A cow on the farm of Clarence Miesmer, Roversford RD 1, found out the hard way yesterday that a heavy diet can sometimes be harmful.

The five-year-old Guernsey underwent a two-hour operation to have five nails, each about two inches long, removed from its first stomach.

Two skilled veterinarians and four assistants performed the successful operation on the 1000 pound animal. After cutting a 1½ inch gash in the cow, they removed the nails with a magnet.

Dr. Warren B. Rawlings Limited supervised the major operation. He was aided by his daughter, Audrey Rawlings, and by a veterinarian and two assistants from the Kennett Square Laboratory of the University of Pennsylvania.

MISSIMER WAS assured that his prize animal would be up and about today and will probably produce at least a quart of milk. The farmer said the cow bore a calf about a month ago. Before it swallowed the nail it was giving.

Romania's Ex-King Dies in Foreign Exile At Portuguese Resort

LISBON, PORTUGAL, SATURDAY, April 4 (AP)—Romania's ex-King Carol II, who juggled his Balkan throne and gave it up for the red-haired beauty he later married at her supposed death bed, died early today in exile. He was in his 60th year.

His wife, the former Madame Elena (Magda) Lupescu, survived him. She was alone with him at his own death-bed in the swank Estoril colony of dethroned European monarchs.

Their romance before their marriage was her title of uncrowned Queen of Romania and twice she left Romania with him to go into exile.

Carol, a handsome playboy of the world's resorts, once gave up first claim to the Romanian throne to his son, Mihai (Michael), and then reclaimed it for a time before going into exile again.

THEIR LAST flight from Romania was to escape the occupation of Hitler's Nazi legions and they were fired on as they left by train.

As a virtual prisoner of the Franco government in Spain, Carol made a spectacular escape during the war to Portugal.

Romania later ended the monarchy and is now ruled by a Communist government under a Russian domination. Mihai himself is an exile.

Carol, son of Queen Marie and King Ferdinand, married three times. Divorces complicated the Carol-Lupescu romance but they were married in Rio De Janeiro in 1947 under Brazilian law that a person near death—in extreme—may be married under any circumstances.

MADAME LUPESCU was believed at the time to be dying of pernicious anemia, but she recovered and accompanied the exiled monarch on further roving.

Carol met Madame Lupescu in the middle 1920's. She had been the wife of a Romanian officer and he was married to Princess Helen of Greece, mother of Mihai. It was love at first sight and there began a long and hectic romance over the world's play spots.

Carol first gave up his rights to the throne of Bucharest on New Year's eve, 1925. He became known far and wide as "the dashing 'bad boy' of the Balkans."

King Ferdinand, his father, himself said Carol had left home to alone for "repeated moral delinquencies" and that the King had urged him to get out.

On Ferdinand's death, Mihai became the boy king in 1927.

Army Bombers, Marine Tiger Cats Combine in Raids on Front Positions

SEOUL, Saturday, April 4 (AP)—on the Western front which pro-American bombers hammered home new strikes last night and today against Communist positions. Transport, supply centers and a battle line fortifications across Korea.

Ground fighting faded to a flurry of small actions on the Western front and sporadic patrol clashes. B-24 light bombers roared across North Korea's central corridor, cutting key highway routes leading to the front and attacking Red vehicles. The Fifth Air Force said its night-flying bombers destroyed 73 Communist trucks.

Other B-26s teamed with Marine Tiger Cats in raids on Red front line positions.

THIRTEEN B-29 Superforts, draped through heavy rain and clouds along the Northeastern Korean coast and dumped 150 tons of bombs on two supply centers.

Chinese Reds stormed up the north slope of Pook Chop hill on the Western front under cover of 600 round artillery and mortar barrage but ran into a withering hail of rifle and machine gunfire. US Seventh Division defenders stopped them cold before the Reds could reach barbed wire protecting a hill outpost.

An Eighth Army staff officer said Allied artillery and mortars with "extremely accurate fire" chopped up two other Red forces in the area before they could reinforce the Communist attackers.

A handful of Seventh Division troops manning a listening post on upper Alligator Jaw fought a delaying action against 50 Reds seeking to assault a main outpost. The alerted defenders in the main outpost then beat off the Communists in a 20-minute skirmish fought at close range.

Patrol actions flared near with Horse mountain on the Central front and Anchor Hill on the Far Eastern front.

A CENTRAL FRONT action Friday, fought at times with clubs and knives, indicated the Reds fully intend to keep up pressure despite new truce proposals.

The Central front assault by 175 Chinese Reds against US Third Division infantrymen followed the pattern, even if much smaller, of the past week's Communist attacks.

Chief of Police Is Near Death After Gun Battle

ARNOLD, April 3 (AP)—Mike Peltz, Arnold police chief, hovered near death today from bullet wounds received in an hour-long gun battle which killed two men and wounded two others.

Peltz is a patient at Citizens General hospital in New Kensington. He was shot yesterday in the abdomen while trying to capture Virgil Backus, 41, a millworker who went berserk.

Backus was killed after fatally shooting police Sgt. Ernest Johnson, 48. Also wounded were Patrolmen Edward Bollinger, 49, and Mike Barto, 40. They are in fair condition.

Italy Has Troubles Figuring Red Moves

ROME, April 3 (AP)—The Italian government admits it is finding it a bit difficult to reconcile Moscow's latest cooing-dove tactics with the "aggressive behavior" of the Italian Communist party in recent days.

A foreign ministry spokesman said Thursday developments in the Russian policy are being "watched with the greatest of interest in Rome."

He said, however, only the future would tell whether Moscow's latest moves are really intended to ease the cold war strain.

He said if Moscow is trying to ease world tension, "it is difficult to explain the aggressive behavior of the Italian Communist party," since its leader, Palmiro Togliatti, returned from Stalin's funeral.

Bank Bandit Granny Draws 10-Year Term For Toy Gun Holdup

LOS ANGELES, April 3 (AP)—The grandmotherly bank bandit, Mrs. Ethel Arata, 53, was sentenced today to 10 years in prison for robbing a bank of $257.

In addition, Federal Judge Ernest A. Tolin placed her on probation for five years for attempted bank robbery, the probation to start after she finishes her prison term.

Mrs. Arata, daughter of the late Robert Catts, New York multimillionaire who lost his fortune in the 1929 crash, had pleaded guilty to both counts. Originally she pleaded innocent and attempted unsuccessfully to enter an additional plea of innocent because of insanity.

Three psychiatrists examined her and held she was sane at the time she committed the crimes. It was then that she changed her plea to guilty.

After her arrest last Christmas Eve as she tried to hold up an Arcadia, Calif., bank with a toy pistol, she said through her attorney that she would plead innocent on the novel grounds that she had an uncontrollable love for the human race. She said she had given away most of the money she had stolen.

The addition of the green metal front porch awning and the flagstone walk leading from the porch are among the improvements that have been made to this home of Mr. and Mrs. Dee F. Egg Trees Prove Popular eggs were not plentiful. I guess chickens didn't lay as well as they do now. Anyway I understand the oldtimers used to do as many eggs as possible.

"Mrs. Gebris used to save all the shells of eggs used for baking during the year and paint them for Easter.

"The custom originated in Germany centuries ago and has been brought to this country by people who migrated across the sea. Evidently it existed in only certain sections of Germany, because I've talked with people from different sections of that country and some of them heard of egg trees and others haven't."

Three eager egg tree enthusiasts were busy working on the sassafras tree in Mrs. Grubb's kindergarten yesterday despite their day of freedom from the classroom.

Susan Ann Folk, 7, first grade daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Folk, 210 Jefferson street, worked on the arrangement of eggs on the bare limbs.

Brian Snyder, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Snyder, 210 Jefferson street, has been introduced to egg trees early. He will enter kindergarten next year and will know all about painting eggs. He's been doing it for the past two years.

KATHLEEN Rehak, 6, a pupil in Mrs. Grubb's class, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Rehak, 218 Jefferson street, was willing to spend her school holiday working on the egg tree.

Third graders at East Greenville erected an egg tree three years ago. The tradition was revived by Second graders the past year.

Children paint any designs they desire on eggs. Some prefer bright solid colors. Others go in for fancy designs which include ducks, rabbits and birds.

Some children like polka dots and others prefer flowers. "I let them do as they wish," Mrs. Grubb explained. "They are allowed to express themselves any way they wish."

CHILDREN supply their own eggs and one of the problems is removing the yoke and white from the raw eggs.

Mrs. Grubb explained the best method of accomplishing this tedious task: "You insert a needle into a cork and puncture tiny holes in the two ends of an egg and then blow the contents out."

"You have to have plenty of wind to do the job and I've never been a very good egg blower. The children blow out their eggs at home. It's best that way."

"Each year I demonstrate with several eggs in class and then children carry home the ideas to parents. This year the class have averaged more than two eggs per pupil."

On her own egg tree, Mrs. Grubb, who lives on a farm on Robin Hill, Becraftville RD 1, uses eggs with delicate and complicated designs. It takes her hours to complete one egg. Then each egg is sprayed with transparent plastic to protect the finish.

EGGS ARE painted with water paints which smear on contact.

In her living room Mrs. Grubb has a stately 6-foot dogwood tree, which soon will be in full bloom.

Her two sons, John, 12, and David, 8, are interested in egg goose eggs and last night was mother is. They decorate two or three eggs each year.

A former Delaware county school teacher, Mrs. Grubb runs a studio in the front of her home where she teaches country tin painting and chair painting.

"I'm fond of Dutch art," she said. "I think the lines are good and color schemes bright and balanced."

She paints chicken, turkey and large goose shells, which will be used to decorate Easter baskets.

She added, "I haven't been fortunate enough to secure any guinea eggs."

ful decorating of Easter eggs in addition to the one which defines it as a sign of love between sweethearts, has a religious connotation. During Lent, eggs were for-bidden to be eaten in early times. On Easter, the end of the Lenten season, eggs were brought to churches to be blessed.

Gradually it became the custom to paint them and place them in decorated baskets for a blessing at the Mass.

Along with eggs, bread and lamb were blessed at a special ritual called, "Rituale Romanum."

Mishaps Take Two To Local Hospital

A bicycle spokes and an exploding pot of tar were responsible for two Memorial hospital dispensary cases yesterday afternoon.

Earl Myers, 6, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Myers, Road B, Hilldale, was treated at 2:15 for a cut on the right heel suffered when he caught the heel in spokes of a bicycle wheel.

Charles Groff, Lancaster RD 2, was treated for burns of the lower right arm, face and neck. He suffered the burns when a pot of tar exploded while he was working on Route 100, near Black horse hill. He was working for the J. D. Eckman company, Chester county when the pot bubbled over.

Tar was being applied to the highway. He was treated at 4:45 o'clock.

Slipped Chain on Trailer Causes Shovel to Slide

A power shovel slid off the trailer that was carrying it yesterday morning on West King street near the headquarters of Charles L. Dierolf company, which owns the equipment.

The mishap was caused by a chain that slipped, it was reported by Stanley Meierhoff, general manager for Dierolf's. The power shovel climbed back onto the trailer by its own power, Meierhoff added, and there was no significant damage.

The trailer was tilted sideways by the sliding power shovel. A three-man trailer crew led the reloading operation.

Crime Doesn't Pay! Thief Proves It May

PETERSBURG, Va., April 3 (AP)—Clyde G. Gillespie, 22, Baltimore, a convicted auto thief, today escaped from the federal reformatory here.

Authorities said Gillespie can be identified by a tattoo on his right arm reading:

"Crime does not pay."

eight extra workers to help in the sale of Easter candy.

Mrs. Van Sandt said she didn't know how many customers were in the store but that the figure was somewhere in the hundreds.

Saleswomen at Burton's Women's Wear shop, 215 High street, were handling as many as three customers each at one time.

HARRY BARATZ, manager, said said two extra sales people were taken on to aid in the rush.

"The last minute buyers were mainly shopping for dress dresses and blouses," he said. "The women looking for blouses probably want them to go with suits they purchased before Palm Sunday while the dress buyers are buying the high priced ones to wear instead of suits."

On Easter Sunday, the well dressed man or woman feels compelled to promenade. Shoe store operators became aware of that yesterday.

Emmanuel Berger, manager of Boston Shoe store, 239 High street, said business in the morning and late afternoon at the store was more than employees could handle.

"BUSINESS SLACKED off between noon and 3 o'clock but then picked up again just as strong," he said. "We did just as good or better than last year."

It was the same story at the Boyer and Son shoe store, 209 High street. Jaey Asay, co-owner, found the same slump for three hours and the same rush during the morning and late afternoon and evening.

"In fact, business has been good all week," Asay remarked. "Women and children's shoes have been selling very well. The business today was quite satisfying."

Samilson's Dress shop, 231 High street, going through its first Easter season in the borough, found business well above previous expectations.

MRS. SHIRLEY POIRIER, manager, said, "We thought we would have a good season but we didn't expect to find crowds in the store."

In order to handle the greater number of customers purchasing last minute items to complete Easter wardrobes eight extra sales girls were added.

There was even a rush for Easter bonnets. Max Eisner, owner of the Bobette shop, 246 High street, said yesterday the shop was as busy as it has been for the past two weeks when the Easter buying season began to gather momentum.

Eisner said, "This has been the busiest season I've ever experienced. The store broke all previous records."

Isak Jodel Reported 'Improved' Last Night

Isak Jodel, 42, Maple Gardens proprietor of Mill End Fabric shop, 363 High street, was reported in a "very much improved condition" at Pottstown hospital last night.

He was admitted to the hospital on Thursday with a sore throat and a heart condition. His heart has been restored to normal functioning, but the bad throat lingers.

Jodel awakened at his home with the sore throat which caused his heart beat to greatly increase. He has suffered the heart condition for a number of years.

has classed attendance at the meeting as very urgent.

THE JACOBS plant, which employs more than 800, was closed yesterday to give management a better opportunity to analyze the situation. L. I. Gabel, assistant secretary, said the plant will reopen Monday.

Gabel said management will make every effort to use as many workers as possible in production for other customers. More than 50 percent of Jacobs' work is for General Electric.

15 quarts of milk daily. "That's pretty good for a 'fresh' cow," he said. A fresh cow is one that has recently given birth to a calf.

Missimer explained that the cow probably got the nails from the hay in the barn. In scooping up probably picked up the nails with hay close to the floor, the Guernsey the feed.

Wants Justice
To the Editor: I was never so disgusted as when I read about the run-around that the Pottstown police department gave that man.
I suppose it goes on every day (so my husband says) but still it's a shock to find out about it. I imagine the same thing would happen to me if I went in with a complaint about a broken house window.
Can't something be done about it? Is there no way that the people can sit down with the police chief and the burgess and DEMAND that they do something about the sloppiness of the force?
I think some kind of peoples' committee or maybe some organization in town should sit down and talk to the two men and DEMAND some agreement.
Can this keep going on?
Pottstown FRIGHTENED

What good I see humbly I seek to do and live obedient to the law, in trust that what will come and must come will come well.—Sir Edwin Arnold.

The Resurrection

AND WHEN the Sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint Him.

And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.

And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?

And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away; for it was very great.

And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted.

And he said unto them, Be not affrighted: ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified. He is risen. He is not here: behold the place where he laid Him.

But go your way, tell His disciples and Peter that He goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see Him, as He said unto you.

And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre; for they trembled and were amazed: neither said they any thing to any man, for they were afraid.

Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, He appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom He had cast seven devils.

And she went and told them that had been with Him, as they mourned and wept. And they, when they had heard that He was alive, and had been seen of her, believed not.

After that He appeared in another form unto two of them, as they walked, and went into the country.

And they went and told it unto the residue; neither believed they them.

Afterward He appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraiding them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen Him after He was risen.

And He said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.

He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned.

And these signs shall follow them that believe: In My name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongue;

They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

So then, after the Lord had spoken unto them, He was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.

And they went forth and preached everywhere. The Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen. St. Mark, Chapter 16.

To Church. At Easter

MILLIONS of us go to church on Easter tomorrow.

Some will go to see the Easter crowds—others to show off their Easter hats and other frills. Most of us, however, will go because Easter is one of the great religious observances of the Christian year—the Feast of the Resurrection.

It would be better still if we went to church every Sunday for prayer and meditation in the Shadow of the Cross. That would mean we were true followers of Him who said:

"I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live."

Editor, The Mercury,

Who's Responsible

To the Editor: If Burgess Griffith, according to the stories in The Mercury, didn't reprimand those vandals and doesn't even know anything about it, and if the county authorities don't know anything about it, who is reprimanding those boys?

Isn't anybody? Is it left up to desk sergeants and the chief of police?

If Burgess Griffith doesn't know anything about it, shouldn't he avail himself of the facts and demand an investigation?

Should desk sergeants be allowed to act as dictators?

I brought a parking ticket in there once and told the cop at the desk that I wasn't parked over an hour.

WASHINGTON

Eisenhower and Dulles Gain in Foreign Policy

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, April 3.—An Eisenhower success in current negotiations over European unity with Konrad Adenauer, the German Chancellor, will mark another advance in the more aggressive foreign policy inaugurated at Washington under the new Administration.

In so many seemingly unrelated ways that the pattern is difficult to assemble, the Eisenhower-Dulles combination has strengthened the United States position in many key sections of the anti-Russian front.

Unlike the Truman Administration, Ike has wrested substantial gains for this country in return for every concession he has granted.

In short, he has substantiated doubts expressed in foreign capitals during last year's campaign and since the election. European statesmen and editorial writers, who favored Stevenson in the main, did not conceal their fear that Eisenhower, with an intimate knowledge of their economic and military potential, would be a harder taskmaster than Truman.

BARGAINING WEAPONS: In the negotiations with Churchill and Eden, for instance, he won their promise to cut off all trade with China in British ships. In view of the fact that London has formally recognized the Communist regime at Peking, this was an extremely important diplomatic victory.

The visitors obtained only a White House assurance that Eisenhower would not extend the sphere of conflict in the Far East or use the atomic bomb without first consulting Downing Street. Since Ike has no intention of resorting to such extreme action, he was giving away nothing here. On the question of further financial, monetary or commercial aid, Churchill was told to put his house in order before holding out his hat again.

It was, so the records show, the first time in many years that Washington utilized its military and financial supremacy as bargaining weapons. More important, it was the first time that an Administration demanded that our allies assume heavier responsibilities in the cold war.

FRANCE OUR STRONG OUTPOST: Eisenhower followed this same quid pro quo procedure in his negotiations with Rene Mayer, the French Premier. Even shrewd trading was required here because of the fact that France is, until Germany enters the European Defense community, our strongest outpost in Europe.

The White House simply recognized in these talks what has been an obvious fact—namely, that the resistance to Communist expansion in Korea and Indo-China is an "interdependent operation." Indeed, many military and diplomatic experts regard the French front as far more important than our fight on the peninsula. Therefore, Ike will increase from $400,000,000 to about $600,000,000 the annual amount of aid and arms to Indo-China.

But, speaking as a military man as well as President, Ike insisted that Mayer submit a blueprint of a plan to achieve victory over the Red invaders. He also asked that Mayer speed up his Parliament's ratification of treaties on behalf of economic and military unification of Europe.

When Mayer tried to win a promise that the US support him in his clash with Bonn over future ownership of the steel and coal rich Saar, he was told that this was a problem for him and Adenauer to settle.

Calla Cops Lazy

To the Editor: It's no wonder that a judge comes up here and says that there is less juvenile delinquency in Pottstown than in other towns!

In other towns police report the cases of delinquency so that authorities have an idea of what's going on.

In Pottstown, the police are too lazy to report the cases to the county probation and juvenile officers. Don't they realize that it's only for the good of the child?

They wouldn't laugh and lazy around, if those kids grew up to be gangsters or drunken drivers who mow down pedestrians and light poles.

Or would they?
Pottstown FATHER

Gullible Housewives

To the Editor: I was glad those fast-talking peddlers were run out of town before they could take over any more gullible housewives.

People just won't learn these so-called "bargains" really are gyms.

It's beyond my comprehension how an otherwise intelligent housewife will fall for a fast line of chatter by some wandering salesman who tells her that he can sell her silverware, dishes or some other household item cheaper than she can get it in town.

She should know that merchants in Pottstown are competing legitimately for her business and that they've cut their

Loos, direction by Raymond Rouleau who directed "Gigi." (But please, kids, change that scary title—it sounds like a dull night at the opera.)

Writers, actors and members of the cast of Jackie Gleason's television show are getting unusual doses of fresh air and sunshine these days. Jack has rented a home in Sand's Point, and everybody on the show commutes to the country for rehearsals.

THE CURRENT ISSUE

Gary Cooper may soon be Hollywood's wealthiest actor. His share of "High Noon" is equivalent to a large gold mine, and he owns a piece of the new Samoa flicker, "Return to Paradise."

Sir Osbert Sitwell and his equally fascinating sister, Edith, left for Europe on the Ile de France with only four pieces of luggage between them. But their box voyage gifts—including a case of specially frozen sirloin steaks packed by the Pen & Pencil—filled one stateroom to overflowing.

Chums say Jose Ferrer's big ambition is to have his own TV show, but to date no ad agency has taken the time to audition his format.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

BOB L. was recently dismissed from the Navy for homosexuality, even though he was a high ranking officer.

"Dr. Crane, I feel that I might as well end it all," he spoke dejectedly.

"How can I ever face my family? And I have a younger brother who is now in the Air Corps with a captain's rank. He has always looked up to me, and thought I was swell."

"Besides, I was the president of our company, and made $10,000 per year before I entered service. And I am engaged to a fine girl back in my hometown."

"So how can I ever explain my present discharge? Are homosexuals just born that way?"

"I've vowed to break the habit and have prayed. My clergyman has helped me, but every so often, I succumb to temptation."

LITERALLY HUNDREDS of men like Bob consulted me during the period of the war, and for the same type of reason.

Recently I spent two full days at the request of a prominent Chicago clergyman trying to get a talented Army officer transferred to a new field as a means of giving him a second chance, but his superiors wouldn't give him that chance because of his homosexual behavior.

Bob is wrong in thinking that homosexuals are "born that way." Nobody is born with a love for anybody.

HOMOSEXUALITY simply means that the basic instinct we all possess for love, has been misdirected by accidental factors in the environment, so that we develop a romantic affection for our own sex.

Since homosexuality is simply a matter of habit training, the victim can change himself if he has sufficient will power and determination.

I HAVE personally helped convert many homosexuals into heterosexuals. Homosexuality versus heterosexuality, is thus much like introversion of personality versus extroversion.

You can train an introvert by sales work and other extrovertive tasks until you convert him into an extrovert.

Prices as low as possible, still making a profit.

What we need to rid ourselves of these slick gyp artists is not police action but an educational program among the housewives.

If women would stop falling for these slick tricks, the salesmen would soon have to find themselves honest jobs and the gyp companies that hire them would go out of business.

Children Suffer

To the Editor: When children take tumbles from their bicycles on the rutted streets of Pottstown it's time something were done about correcting the situation.

Not only are the dangerous streets breaking automobile springs and shortening the lives of cars but they are also breaking limbs of children and endangering their lives.

If we can't have new streets, at least the borough highway department can make checks of the bad spots and fill in the holes.

REVERENCE, AT EASTER

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYN

HOLLYWOOD, April 3.—The Don Keith who's been taking Arlene Judge places, turns out to be a producer connected with filmmaking in Mexico. He had to go down there a few days ago—so Arlene went too! And for the tempestuous fugitive depicted by her son, Wesley Ruggles Jr., (by her very first husband) is 20 years old—and a familiar figure on the Hollywood boulevards in his snazzy sports car.

Charles Korvin (of the dimpled chin) is giving up films for a while to co-star with Veronica Lake (who hasn't made a movie in years) in the stage play, "Masquerade." Show opens in Springfield, Mass., before bowing on Broadway. Well, fevers sake! Edward Arnold ("Mr. President" himself of the air waves) will show off his vocal chords at the "Rodgers and Hammerstein Night" at the Philadelphia Auditorium here next week.

How's Your Mind?

THE ANSWER, QUICK!

1. What is a student at the U. S. Naval Academy called?
2. How many ages of man did William Shakespeare describe?
3. What is a "razorback"?

Angel Rolls Back Stone From Tomb of Our Lord

Divine Messenger Reveals to 3 Marys. That Jesus Has Risen From the Dead

The Golden Text

Holy women at the tomb.

"And Jesus came to them and spoke unto them, saying: All authority hath been given Me in heaven and on earth. Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations."—Matthew 28:18, 19.

Scripture—Matthew 28.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.
AFTER a long, cold winter everyone in northern climes welcomes the coming of spring.
"For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in the land."—The Song of Solomon 2:11, 12.

For us, it is not only the time of the return of the birds and flowers, but the time when our Lord rose from the dead to bless the world with joy and thanksgiving.

Each of the four disciples whose books appear in the New Testament wrote a little different account of this Easter morning when the tomb was found empty and the risen Lord appeared.

This is natural enough. We all know how different are the accounts of the same story told by two different persons. In our lesson we follow Matthew's narrative which ends his book.

The chapter begins, "In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre."

"And, behold, there was a great earthquake; for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it."

"His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow. And for fear of him they did shake, and became as dead men."

No wonder the guards were frightened. First the body of Christ had disappeared, according to our commentators, then this brilliant apparition appeared and rolled away the great stone that sealed the tomb, and sat thereon.

"Fear not," were the first words the women heard as they looked fearfully at the angel. "Fear not, for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here; for He is risen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay."

"And go quickly, and tell His disciples that He is risen from the dead; and, behold, He goes before you into Galilee; there shall ye see Him, lo, I have told you."

Quickly, the women left the tomb to acquaint the disciples with the glorious news. They departed "with fear and great joy."

They did not reach their goal, however, before the risen Lord Himself stood before them, saying, "All hail!" The women worshipped.

The Living Lord ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

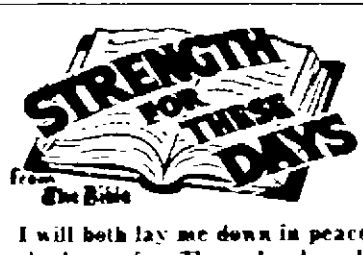

As Sunday dawned at the tomb of Christ, there was a great earthquake and an angel from the Lord rolled back the stone that sealed the tomb and sat upon it. "For fear of him the keepers became as dead men" when the three Marys came to the sepulchre.

The angel said to them, "Fear ye not, for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here, for He is risen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay. And go quickly, and tell His disciples that He is risen from the dead."

The women departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring the disciples word. And as they went to tell His disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, "All hail!" And they came and held Him by the feet and worshipped Him.

The Marys told the disciples that the Lord would appear to them in Galilee, so the eleven went into Galilee, and when they saw Him they worshipped Him. He told them to go and teach all nations what He had commanded them.

I will both lay me down in peace, and sleep; for Thou, Lord, only makest me dwell in safety.—(Psalm IV, 8.)
There is the troubled sleep of exhaustion; the fitful sleep bedeviled by dreams of uneasy conscience. Then there is the peaceful sleep, which alone will refresh and strengthen us to face the tasks of the day. That kind of sleep comes only when we are at peace with God, because we love and obey Him.

90 Easter Lilies Will Adorn Church for In Memoriam

Trinity Reformed Easter Service Will Include Blending of 29 Voices

Ninety Easter lilies will be on the altar, reredos and in the chancel of Trinity Reformed church during Easter services tomorrow.

Given in memory of relatives or friends, the flowers will be taken to sick and shut-in members of the congregation during the next week.

Twenty-nine voices will sing at the first of tomorrow's two Communion services.

Cantata "The Life Everlasting," by J. B. Matthews, will be sung at 10:45 a. m. at the Easter Eucharist.

Soloists will be Muriel Dunlap, alto, a native of Nantmeal and presently a student at Westminster Choir school, Princeton, N. J.; James Christman, tenor, and the Rev. John B. Frantz, baritone and pastor.

MUSICAL accompaniment to the organ played by Mrs. Norman G. Lepper, minister of music, will be five instrumentalists. Those playing will be: William Shintine, timpani; Kenneth Hoover, and David Erb, trombone; Richard Koons and Norman G. Lepper, cornet.

Mrs. Lepper is directing the cantata's presentation.

The second Communion service begins.

Today's Psalm

A Psalm each day during the 40 days of Lent, with an accompanying commentary or appreciation by a local clergyman, is being published by The Mercury.

The version of the Psalm used is that of the communizing clergyman's church. Today it is taken from the King James version.

The Psalm for today is the 121st in the Protestant and Hebrew Bibles and the 122nd in the Catholic Bible.

Commentary

By REV. GEORGE F. EICHORN, Jr.
Pastor St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church

How we seek after help as we face the insurmountable hills of the doubts of faith!

The suffering of Him who came to save shocks us again.

We see Him once more crucified on the hill of Calvary.

We stand at the foot of that awful hill and gaze upward at the Man of Sorrows, and the doubts and old mistrusts again creep into our soul and we cry with the psalmist: "From whence cometh our help?"

Our fear and anxiety increase as we see Him bow His head and yield Himself to death.

Where is the salvation He has promised?

How can He give us eternal life when He is dead Himself?

As we observe Joseph placing Him in the tomb and view the great stone door as it closes with a finality unmistakable, at this last despairing moment, we hear:

"Ever so faintly, but distinctly, it comes to us echoing across the ages from faith to faith, the old song of the pilgrim on that first journey to Zion."

"Our help cometh from the Lord, who made heaven and earth."

Our eyes go beyond the hills of doubt. We lift them to heaven and through the darkness of despair we find a gleam of hope.

We hear the phrases of that old song and they speak to us of new life—"He that keepeth thee will not slumber." Is He not dead then?

"The Lord is thy keeper." Has

He remembered our plight?

"From this time forth, and even for evermore."

Will He live forever and we with Him as He has said?

Today we stand repentant and sorrowing only with hope, but to-morrow?

Today we stand repentant and sorrowing only with hope, but to-morrow?

Ah, thank God for tomorrow! He is not here; for He is risen, as He said.

Bible Words to Live by

There are many passages in Scripture which come at different times to have enduring meaning for one's life. One kind of experience will recall one verse, another experience another verse. But I have found myself going back time and again to verse 13 in Chapter ten of Paul's first letter to the Corinthians. "God is faithful, and he will not let you be tempted beyond your strength, but with the temptation will also provide the way of escape, that you may be able to endure it." Whether the testing be of one's strength, or patience, or faith in both God and man, and whether the trial be through defeat or disillusionment, I have always found it true that God has given the strength to endure, and has proved Himself faithful.

Bulletin Board Given To Local Church

Trinity Evangelical Congregational church now boasts of new bulletin boards.

One was given to the church by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Detweiler in honor of the late Mrs. Hilda Leinbach, Mrs. Detweiler's sister.

Helping on the project were: Edward Stephens who painted the name sign; Wilbur Hook, Howard Wyming, Herbert Messer, Forrest Fritz and Byron Shaffer who put the board in place.

Bulletin boards were placed in the children's departments by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hertzog.

The Rev. Donald T. Floyd, pastor, has extended his thanks to Forrest Fritz for making these boards and a number of others during the past years.

Copper Rush Starts In Yukon Territory

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, April 3 (U. S. A. P.)—A small scale copper stampede along the Alaska highway in Canada's Yukon territory was reported today by a Fairbanks mining man.

T. F. Anderson, who arrived over the highway yesterday, said the fronted mining claim staking is at White River canyon, about 20 miles off the highway and about 50 miles from the Alaska border.

He said truck drivers are parking their vehicles to stake claims, and several roadhouse operators' pulpits on Good Friday, delivering a sermon on the sixth and seventh last words of Christ.

About 2000 worshippers in Manila's San Sebastian church and thousands of radio listeners heard Father Felix Martinez utter the words "consummatus est" (it is finished).

At that moment, he gripped the microphone and slid slowly to the floor.

Prayer for the Week

By Lion Feuchtwanger (Noted Biographer)

"Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me."

Cast me not away from thy presence; and take not thy holy spirit from me.

Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit.

Then will I teach transgressors thy ways; and sinners shall be converted unto thee.

"LORD, TEACH US TO PRAY"

Long before Christ came upon the earth, men were resorting to prayer for divine help.

The people of Israel, we know, realized the power of prayer and prayed often in appeal for God's blessing in gratitude for His favors.

Many people, unfortunately, do not know how to pray properly. Even the Apostles, watching as Jesus prayed, became conscious for the first time of the mighty power of a proper prayer. They could see on the Savior's face as He prayed, the reflection of a great inner peace and refreshment.

So they said to Jesus: "Lord, teach us to pray."

And Christ replied: "Pray thus... Our Father Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy Name.

"Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. "Give us this day our daily bread.

"And forgive us our debts as we also forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil."

The words of the "Lord's Prayer" are enshrined, of course, in the hearts of Christians everywhere. And yet Christ, in giving us this most beautiful prayer of all, did not tell us to "Pray this." He said: "Pray thus."

He meant that we must pray with the realization that God is truly our Father... that His Name is to be revered as no other... that His Will is to be done here and hereafter... that we are to be truly

The most famous collection of prayers known to history is the Book of Psalms... prayers in which God Himself teaches us clearly the dispositions with which we should pray.

To help you in your prayers, we will send you a beautifully illustrated edition of the Book of Psalms free of charge. Write today and ask for your copy of Book of Psalms No. 11 K.C.

Niantic Church Social Hall Renovated Bible Institute Choir By Fifteen Christ Lutheran Members To Present Program In Brethren Church

We'll do it ourselves, said Christ Lutheran women in Niantic. And they did.

They were discussing the re-furnishing of the church social hall which they felt needed paint, shellac and varnish.

At a March meeting, the decision was made. The hall was finished yesterday.

Used for wedding receptions, picnics, parties, dinners and quilting, the hall was given to Christ church's two congregations by Dr. P. P. Hagan. It once was a clothing factory.

Work by 15 men and women was led by Mrs. Earl Yoder, Mrs. Harold Yoder and Mrs. Robert Schwenk who directed the use of ladders, paint brushes, sandpaper and clean-up cloths.

TO CELEBRATE the new pale green ceiling and the white-painted walls and cabinets, open house will be held Saturday, April 18, from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

John Guinther, organist, choir director and Sunday school pianist, will be honored at this time for his 20 years of service.

Superintendent Norman Heydt appointed the following open house committees:

MRS. ALAN LYSINGER and William Landis, publicity; Daniel Hoffman and Lawrence Christman, tickets; Raymond Noss and John Guinther, purchasing; Mrs. Harry Mumbauer and Mrs. Clarence Christman, hostesses.

Mrs. Raymond Noss, Mrs. Melvin Miller, Mrs. Chester Christman, Mrs. Earl Yoder, Mrs. Horace Moll, Mrs. Yoder and Mrs. John Guinther, cooking and baking.

Mrs. William Landis and Melvin Landis, cakes and pies; Les walls and cabinets, open house will be held Saturday, April 18, from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

First Baptist Church to Give Pageant 'The Easter Glory' at Evening Service

"The Easter Glory," a cantata, will be presented at the evening service tomorrow in First Baptist church.

Music for the drama at 7 o'clock will be given by the Senior choir.

Voices will be: the Rev. Lawrence T. Geers, pastor-narrator; Newton Hausman, Peter; Vernon Levegood, man, and Leon Hausman, The Lord.

Persons in the tableaux will include: William R. Schutt, The Lord; William Dierker, Edward Good; Robert Petrilla, Charles Bunting; Harry Wilson and George Jersey.

Students come for training at the institute from many denominations and independent groups. Enrollment for the present school year is over 1000.

SUSAN AND DAVID HAUSEMAN, David Kern, Barbara Stein and Pamela Hoel, children; William Mohn, Wesley Nichols, Gilbert Pennypacker, Robert Houck and Paul Mohn, soldiers.

Barbara Good, Opal Reid, Placido, women at the tomb; Harold Beckley, Pilate; Carol Longaker and Nancy Wilson, angels; Anna Townsend, Phyllis Edgcomb, Gary Clifford and Mrs. Anna Townsend, missionary converts.

Working behind the scenes will be: Peggy Jones, Alice Wilson, Connie Ottinger, Nancy Loh and Anna Townsend, costumes; Virginia Hancock, makeup; Robert Jones, properties; and Maurice Korneman, stage and lighting.

Arrangements were made by a committee of the Board of Christian Education under the leadership of Mrs. William R. Schutt.

The Thought For This, Our Holy Week

JESUS SAID:
(I am the Resurrection and the Life)

Our Heavenly Father, Thou art never afar off from any of us at any time. Help us to recognize Thee, to rely upon Thee through faith. Teach us to bring to Thee our fears, trials, and weaknesses. We know Thou canst help us. We believe Thou wilt help us, for we have called upon Thee in times past and Thou hast upheld us. In Christ's name. Amen.

THE SYMBOL OF LIFE

Easter lilies and a cross. A strange and wonderful symbol of life.

The lily is among the most delicate of flowers. And the cross is an ancient instrument of execution.

But the lily is pure and fresh and alive with beauty. And the Cross reminds men of the Christ who rose from the grave.

Together they echo the promise the first Easter fulfilled, the promise of eternal life for all who believe in Jesus, the Son of God.

But Easter lilies and a cross are only a symbol. To find the true joy of Easter and its wondrous promise—come to Church on Easter Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor for growth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a discipline of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sacred reasons why every person should attend services: may the cup of life be given. Every one is invited to the open table, but not the children's table. For the sake of the Church itself, we must be men and women of spiritual support. Let us go to church regularly and save your Bible daily.

John F. Evanses Recall Their Wedding 50 Years Ago—in a $6 House

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Evans, 56 a month rent Kemilworth, both figure they're homebodies — they even rented their own home to be married in 50 years ago.

Today, still in Kemilworth but in a different house, they are celebrating their Golden Wedding.

Mrs. Evans recalled she wore a gray gown trimmed in white to be married beneath the roof for back at Kemilworth and in introduced by Elizabeth's sister, who which she and her husband paid their present home. "It's funny," was "keeping company" with laughed Mrs. Evans, "but I was John's brother."

"And I just didn't think anything about it at the time," recalled Mrs. Evans. "I'd never have dreamed that he'd be my husband for 50 years."

Mr. Evans, however, felt a bit differently, and with Machiavellian cunning teased his wife to be's sister into bringing Elizabeth along on foursome dates.

The Evans courted for four years and said Mrs. Evans, "at the end of that time we just up and got married."

Prior to her marriage she worked as a housemaid and her husband was a puddler for the Glasgow Iron works.

Later he was employed by the U.S. Axle works and he retired just the past Saturday.

The couple counts three children — Anna Evans, Widening, Howard Evans, Pottstown, and William Earl Evans, Pottstown.

They have eight grandchildren about the table, his wife sets to doesn't think is fine "just everybody," and Mrs. Evans Both husband and wife are 77 cannot serve anything but that "he years old."

GOLDEN WEDDING BELLS are ringing today for Mr. and Mrs. John F. Evans, Kemilworth, who were married 50 years ago. The couple has remained in Kemilworth all their married life—except for a three year interlude on a farm. They are both 77 years old.

Easter Sunday Marriage Ceremony Read by Rev. Hunsberger Will Unite Eleanor E. Miller and Her Groom, Herman G. Kompf

Eleanor E. Miller, Zionsville, Pa., will become the bride of Herman G. Kompf, Zionsville, Pa., at an Easter afternoon ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. James Miller, Zionsville, Pa., are the parents of the bride. The groom is the son of Mrs. LeRoy Min gus, Zionsville, Pa.

Palms and vases of pastel gladiolus will fill the altar of the East Greenville Evangelical United Brethren church for the double ring rites.

Officiating will be the Rev. R. R. Hunsberger and an organ recital before the marriage will be played with chantilly lace.

From the slim waist of the gown a bouquet of orchids and lily of the valley will cascade over satin.

Miss Miller's fingertip veil will fall from a cap of lace, trimmed with pearls.

Orchids and lily of the valley will form her muff bouquet.

Phyllis Miller, a cousin of the bride, will serve as maid of honor.

She will be attired in a gown of orchid bud marquisette, in a similar design as the bridal frock, and styled with long sleeves.

Lily of the valley will trim her orchid bonnet and she will carry a yellow muff trimmed with purple orchids and lily of the valley.

Best man will be George Keller, Raymond Miller, a brother of the bride, and J. Calvin Young will be usher.

Dinner will be served to the bridal party and the newlyweds' family at a dinner in the Shankweiler hotel after the ceremony.

The couple will make their home with the bride's parents.

The bride is employed at the Kings Highway school.

Her husband, a graduate of Bovertown High school, works for the Frank D. Jacobs Printing company in Philadelphia.

MR. AND MRS. OLIVER RHOADS

Married Fifty-Seven Years Today, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Rhoads Recall Their Wedding Ceremony Read by the Rev. J. E. Freidman

Seven seems to be Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Rhoads' Pottstown, Pa., RD 3, luck, number they feel as the reason today the seven year mark past their Golden Wedding.

Today also is Mrs. Rhoads' 81st birthday.

Married 57 years, the Rhoads still enjoy talking and listening to each other.

They were wed in the bride's home by the Rev. J. E. Freidman, pastor Bovertown Reformed church, after a two year courtship.

Most of their courting days the couple recalls were spent at hoedowns, and Mrs. Rhoads thinks the old fashioned dances are lots more fun than modern steps.

According to her husband, Mrs. Rhoads had to be coaxed to become a bride but she says she never regretted saying "yes."

The couple has one daughter, Clara, the wife of Edward Schwoerer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl Hatfield of Linfield Have Announced Their Daughter's Betrothal to Donald J. Bowman, Son of Nellie Bowman

Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl Hatfield, Linfield, have announced the betrothal of their daughter, Arlene M. Hatfield, who will become the bride of Donald J. Bowman, Spring City.

Mr. Bowman is the son of Nellie Bowman, Road and Church streets, Spring City.

He studied at Spring City High school.

Mrs. Hatfield attended schools near her Linfield home.

Economical First Lady Picks Just a Pill Box Bonnet as Sole New Item in Her Black and White Easter Sunday Church Costume

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower is getting off easy as far as bills for his wife's Easter outfit is concerned.

The first lady has a new bonnet for Easter but she is wearing a suit already in her wardrobe.

The Eisenhowers will attend Easter Sunday services at the National Presbyterian church which they joined in February.

Mrs. Eisenhower plans to wear a black taffeta suit she bought recently at the beauty salon where she goes to have her famous bangs set. This salon also has a small apparel shop.

The taffeta has a wool thread woven through it. The suit has a straight skirt with a panel in back.

The fitted jacket, trimmed with black bone buttons, has rounded shoulders and it flares slightly at the hips. The high collar has rounded revers.

Mrs. Eisenhower is especially fond of small smart hats. Her Easter hat is an irregular shaped pillbox fashioned of rows of finely pleated white hairband.

It has a tiny brim and the crown is encircled with a row of small white flowers.

As usual she will wear a choker of white pearls and drop pearl earrings. Her pumps are of black suede and so is her hand bag. Gloves are white.

If weather continues warm she doesn't intend to wear a coat but she will have about her shoulders her white Norwegian fox scarf.

Her hat is one of two especially designed for her in New York by Sally Victor and sent down for her approval. She kept one and returned the other.

Two Marines Exchange Wedding Vows at Parris Island Chapel; One Is Daughter of Mont Clare Assemblyman H. B. Willaredt

Two Marines—one a former Coatesville lad, the other a daughter of a State assemblyman—were married in a Spring service at the Marines post chapel, Parris Island, S. C.

Fred McCorkle, a USMC sergeant, claimed as his bride Barbara Dawn Willaredt, daughter of Rep. and Mrs. Herman B. Willaredt, Mont Clare.

The groom is the son of George F. McCorkle, Sunnyside, Wash., and formerly of Coatesville. Both he and his bride are stationed at the Parris Island base.

Read by the post chaplain, the double ring ceremony followed a recital of bridal music which included "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Dispensing with her uniform, the bride elected to be married in a linen suit of off white with a pink hat and pink shoes carried on a white Bible.

Her sole attendant was Mrs. John Matherly, Parris Island.

The matron of honor's suit was orchid, and she added accents of white. Her bouquet was formed from yellow roses.

Troop 11 Brownies hunted candy Easter eggs during their meeting in the recreation room of Emmanuel Lutheran church yesterday.

Strong Boxes Guarantee Your Mail'll Arrive

When shipping fragile articles use a strong fiberboard or corrugated cardboard box. No shoe boxes!

Pack the fragile items no closer than one inch from sides, top and bottom of box.

And here's something: The Army, after long experiments, has found that one of the best ways to fill up the space between the articles packed and the walls of their container is with ordinary popcorn. It makes a fine cushion, one that is very light.

When clothing is to be shipped, use a very sturdy box, not the cardboard type used by dress shops, no matter how handsome or seemingly sturdy.

Place plenty of tissue paper in the clothing folds to prevent wrinkling, and fold clothes to the exact size of the container. Stuff paper in all empty spaces.

ARTHRITIS PAINS GONE!

William F. Weaver, 436 Pear St., Reading, Pa., writes: "I had a very bad case of arthritis in my knees. I could hardly walk or get up and down from a chair. At night I could not rest in bed. The pain was so great, after using Crown Hill Mineral Concentrates for seven weeks I have no more pain or stiffness in my knees and I can walk and go up and down stairs as good as ever."

Former Boyertown Man Weds Texas DeeGee at San Antonio

Reginald Kelly, a former Boyertown resident now living in Texas, was married recently to Janet Richardson, San Antonio, Tex.
The service was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Richardson before a flower basket reception.
Performing the service was the Rev. Alec H. Longman, pastor of a Baptist church in San Antonio. The bride's sister, Berenice Richardson, sang during the ceremony.
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length gown of white dotted Swiss with long sleeves, puffed shoulders and a full skirt.
Collar and hem were edged with pink velvet embroidery, to match the white bride tied at her waist, and her eilet picture hat. She carried a bouquet of smil pink orchids and pink bouvardia in a heart shape arrangement tied with a ribbon to fulfil the "some thing, blue" tradition.
Her 50-year-old pink satin slip peers peeked from under her mother's length gown of white dotted Swiss with long sleeves, puffed shoulders and a full skirt.

Philadelphia Rabbi Leon Lang to Discuss Marriage Problems at JWJ Meeting Here

Rabbi Leon Lang, Philadelphia, will address the Wednesday meeting of the Jewish Women's League.
The gathering is set for 8:30 p. m.
Rabbi Lang's topic will be "A Jewish Approach to Personal Problems of Marriage and Family Living."
His interest in these problems stems from his service as a member of a marriage panel at the JWJ national convention in Philadelphia.
Program chairman for the evening will be Mrs. Charles Gile, and husbands will be guests at the meeting.
To be discussed during the gathering is the Spring conference of the JWJ. Future branch stated for April 21 and 22 in Easton.
Many food experts recommend that adults consume at least one forkful of fruit or vegetable at each meal.

Planting of Nursery Stock Should Be in Full Swing in April

Around the first week in April, the planting of nursery stock should be in full swing in this area. Shrubs and trees can be planted earlier than vegetable seeds.

If planted just as soon as the frost is out of the ground, hardy plant materials have the advantage of early season growth and produce more and better foliage, flowers or fruit as the case may be.

The only reason nursery stock isn't planted in the winter time is because the ground is too difficult to work at that time.

EXCEPT for the season when the ground is frozen hard, most nursery stock can be planted at any time of the year. Early selection and planting of your plants, however, provides earlier flowers.

Shrubs and trees, as well as the small fruits like raspberries and strawberries can stand very hard frosts. That is why they may be planted earlier than vegetables or annual flowers.

In fact, the earlier they are planted the better.

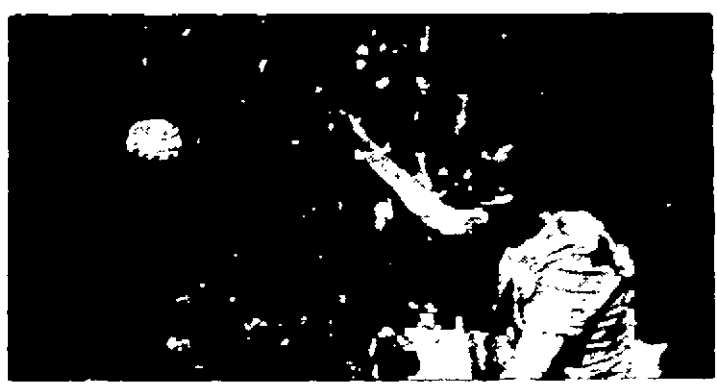

Gardening this Week

By KATE PERKINS
CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. April 3 (AP)—
Sometimes—mostly when looking at my garden supplies dealer's shelves filled with special balms, unguents, foods and patent medicines for plants—I wish I had been born in an earlier garden century. Life must have been extremely uncomplicated for those tillers of the soil. Fertilizers were simply organic material, only a few rudimentary tools existed and the battle with pests and disease was a personal one with man on the defensive.

It was only a few years back when just about all a hobby gardener had to stock in his plant medicine chest was Bordeaux mixture, nicotine sulphate, rotenone or pyrethrum spray or dust.

DWARF TREES ARE USED
Many backyard gardeners are planting dwarf fruit trees, reports Carl Bittner, Penn State extension fruit specialist.

Even Working's Fun...
WITH A FARMALL CUB!
A warm spring day and you ride out to the field in your brand-new Farmall Cub tractor... flip a tiny lever with your finger... and down goes the plow! A big, shiny ribbon of soil rolls over... yes, even working's fun with a Farmall Cub!
A fellow east of town said to me, "My kids are always scraping about who's going to drive the Farmall Cub. How I wish we'd had machines like that when I was a kid. My poor feet sure took a beating!"
Yes, folks, that's what a lot of people are saying since they bought their Farmall Cub... and they know that any time parts or service are needed, I'm always here.

DISC HARROWS WILL NOT GOUGE IN ON THE TURNS!

MM model 11A disc harrow turns in as small a radius as any row-crop tractor. Tension springs hold the gangs in a level position so that the harrow penetrates at a uniform depth over its full width. With this construction the harrow is flexible for good work on uneven ground, and one side or the other does not dig in on turns.

Ease of angling is another outstanding feature. A touch on MM's new hydraulic control, called Uni-Matic Power, makes adjustment of disc angle on the go a simple matter. If your old harrow needs replacing, drop in to see us. We think MM harrows offer you the most in good performance, economy, and dependability.

Three BIG Reasons
for buying the CA Tractor

1. More performance... try it in your toughest field.
2. More features... compare with any tractor in the two-plow class.
 - a. Power-Shift wheels... in or out with engine power.
 - b. Two-Clutch Control... handles PTO like an extra engine.
 - c. Traction Booster hydraulic system... adds weight to drive wheels automatically.
3. LOWEST priced complete full two-plow tractor. You get every advantage at no extra cost.

Before you buy your next tractor, compare the Allis-Chalmers CA, feature for feature, with any other two-plow tractor. You will agree there's nothing like it.

BENSON REPORTS PRICE DECLINE HAS STOPPED

Report Increase After 6 Consecutive Months Of Skidding

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—A prolonged decline in the general level of farm prices came to a halt during the month ended March 15, but the brakes were not applied to skidding prices of beef cattle and veal calves.

The Agriculture department reported today that farm prices on a whole increased one-third of one percent between mid-February and mid-March. They had dropped steadily for six consecutive months. This decline had spurred sharp criticism of Secretary of Agriculture Benson by some members of Congress.

But the average prices of beef cattle—which have been the most troublesome from the Benson standpoint—declined slightly more than 12 percent and veal calves about 8 percent during the month.

Graph for Gardeners

Cherry Belle Is Noted Among 12 Best

A radish rightly known as Cherry Belle is again acclaimed as an All-America Selection. It was awarded a bronze medal in 1929 and this year it has been included in the list of the twelve best vegetables.

It is a round little radish, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, and is a bright cherry red. It is ready for use in about 21 days, which is as early as any.

Instead of becoming pithy with age it stays that desirable bite size, with very short tops and smallest tap root.

It can be sown for several crops before "hot weather" comes, being at its best when the nights begin to warm up. It thrives in any garden soil.

Half Million Bushels Of Wheat Are Under Government Support

More wheat has been put under price support this year than ever before. As of February 15, a record 453.8 million bushels of the 1932 crop had been put under the program, compared with the largest previous quantity—for a full crop year—of 406.1 million bushels of 1942 crop.

In the State about 181,713 bushels had been covered by the program as of March 15, 1933.

STATE TOTALS for corn were 412,714 bushels of the 1932 crop under support as of March 15, 1933, compared with 158,116 bushels a year ago.

Loans and purchase agreements on 1932 crop corn will be available in Pennsylvania through May 31, 1933.

ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS

Q. This is my first year at raising chicks. What do you advise?

A. Put good chicks in a good house. Feed 'em well and — give 'em Dr. Salsbury's Ren-O-Sal from the start! It gets chicks off to a great start and keeps 'em out ahead. Use Ren-O-Sal in each gallon of drinking water. It's easy, economical, and successful—as millions of poultry raisers know. Buy Ren-O-Sal when you get your chicks or starter.

New Holland's great new turbine baler

The NEW HOLLAND

Most compact baler ever built. Costs hundreds of dollars less!

The Surprise of a life time! That's the New Holland "55". Well, wonder you've never seen a baler so compact in design, so completely new — feature after feature.

You'll be amazed the first time you see the "55". It's shorter and lower than most balers of its type on the market. It's designed to operate at full efficiency with one- or two-plow tractors. Best of all, it's priced so low that now even small-estate farms can afford the finest in baling equipment.

Now you can enjoy the full benefits of having your own baler. You can bale your hay the moment it's ready to come in. And in the field you'll find it hard to believe your eyes when you see how the "55" "gobbles up the windows". Nothing seems to stop it. It can kick out 6 full square bales a minute — produce up to 7 tons of hay in an hour! And it bales anything — clover, prairie hay, sudan grass, maize.

Come in and see us right away! We're ready and waiting to show you a "55". We'd like to go over this wonderful question machine with you point by point — give you positive proof you can't buy better at the price!

A full line of balers!

The New Holland "55" promptly takes its place with the famous "77" turbine and the Mighty "90" wheelie — with the highest capacity balers in the world. No matter what material you bale or what field conditions you work under, no matter whether you bale, sell or custom bale, there's a New Holland that can do the job better, faster and at lower cost. Come in and look over YOUR New Holland today.

Family of 4 Found Dead in Apartment, Believed Murder, Suicide by Father

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—A family of four were found dead today, apparently wiped out in a sudden, unexplained orgy of violence by the father, a quiet, cultured college professor.

The father, Harold A. Conner, 32, was found dead in a pool of blood. Police said he apparently strangled his wife and two children, then slashed himself fatally in the neck.

The bodies had lain undisturbed for about 48 hours until friends became alarmed at the failure of the family to answer the telephone. Medical examiners set the time of death at Wednesday afternoon or evening.

Detectives said Conner's 43-year-old wife, Selma, and the children, Jane, 13, and John, 11, had been strangled.

CONNER WAS A well-known faculty member at New York University. Friends recalled him as an unusually quiet man. He suffered a nervous breakdown several years ago, apparently as a result of his intense concentration on a graduate university degree.

Deputy Chief Inspector Edward Seeley received reports that Conner recently had been undergoing psychiatric treatment. But the psychiatrist who treated him was out of town and police could not reach him immediately.

The Conner family had intended to leave today for an Easter visit with relatives in their home town of Huntington.

The Conner apartment was on the second floor of a huge 700-unit development in Sunnyside, Queens, just across the East river from Manhattan.

HE WAS AN associate professor of marketing at NYU. The school closed this week for the Easter holiday.

Dean George R. Collins of the NYU Commerce school described Conner as a quiet, cultured man with a fine record during his 16 years or so at NYU.

The bodies were found after friends, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Byrne, tried repeatedly to reach the Conners by telephone. Eventually, the Byrnes asked assistance from James Stephen, resident manager of the low cost housing project.

Superintendent Michael Walter was sent up to open the door with a passkey. He found the bodies.

The children, full dressed, were found in their bedroom. Mrs. Conner, dressed in striped pajamas and a blue sweater, was under a bed in another room.

Conner was sprawled lifeless on the floor, a breadknife under his body. The knife wound on his neck was about two inches long.

Astin Feels Entitled To Clarification of Dismissal Reasons

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Dr. Allen V. Astin, fired from his $15,000 a year job as head of the National Bureau of Standards, said today he feels he is entitled to a clarification of the reasons he was dismissed.

In the Senate there was a mixed reaction as to whether Congress should investigate the dismissal. Senator Hunt (D-Wyo.) said yes. He said there were "implications" that pressure tactics were involved in the ouster, and that the action had dealt a severe blow to the Bureau of Standards.

Senator Tobey (R-NH) said no. He and Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) talked with Astin for 75 minutes today. After the conference he said Astin's resignation is "not at all based on the lack of qualification as a scientist."

RATHER, TOBEY said, "it reflects simply a desire on the part of the new Administration to have men who are in complete sympathy with them on policy."

Johnson had no comment on the meeting. Senator Bennett (R-Utah) agreed with Tobey. He said in a statement it merely was a case of President Eisenhower wanting to fill the job with a man of his own choosing. He said, however, it is unfortunate that this problem has been handled in such a way as to injure Dr. Astin, the bureau and the Commerce department.

At the time Secretary of Commerce Weeks disclosed that Astin had been ousted he stressed the fact that he disagreed with a conclusion the bureau had reached on a chemical which is supposed to rejuvenate auto batteries.

The bureau said it was no good. Weeks said it was. Weeks said he had other reasons for dismissing Astin, but he didn't say what they were.

DULLES URGES FREE WORLD TO KEEP UP GUARD

Secretary Warns Red Nations Have No Scruples Against Using Violence

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles strongly urged the free world today to keep up its guard even if a Korean settlement is worked out with the Communists.

He said at a news conference that as long as Soviet Russia is a heavily armed totalitarian state, run by leaders who are hostile to non-Communist countries and who have no moral scruples against violence, the rest of the world remains in great danger.

"Nothing that has happened, or which seems to me likely to happen, has changed the basic situation of danger in which we stand," Dulles said.

He added that nothing should delay or hamper the European Defense Community and other measures. At the same time he said this cautious attitude need not prevent such arrangements as a Korean prisoner exchange and he suggested that if Moscow is sincere it should follow up with a general armistice and agree to an Austrian peace treaty.

DULLES VOICED his warning against "letdown" in the wake of yesterday's declaration by President Eisenhower that Communist offers should be taken at face value until they are proved unworthy of confidence.

The secretary told a questioner he felt sure his general philosophy was that of the Administration and did not conflict with the President's statement.

Dulles' words lent weight to an earlier statement by Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther that Russian peace talks might be "a trap" to hold together the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). Gruenther, chief of staff for NATO, spoke at a Pentagon news conference.

Dulles said that: 1. Current Cold War developments are due in part to the strong position he said the Eisenhower Administration has taken since the inauguration. He cited the presidential order which permits Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese Nationalists to launch any attacks they can on the Red Chinese mainland, the buildup of South Korean forces, plans to increase aid to Indochina and the joint French-American warning to the Communists the past week not to start new attacks in Asia.

2. An appreciable reduction can be made in the $7,500,000,000 Truman foreign aid budget for the next fiscal year, starting July 1, without impairing essential objectives. Dulles described as unnecessary a good deal of the spending projected by these estimates.

Torches Light Good Friday Services

ROME, April 3 (AP)—Flaring torches light a mournful way to the cross tonight on Rome's Palatine hill — climaxing the Good Friday commemoration of Christ's passion and death.

Several thousand pilgrims took part. Many came here from other parts of Europe, especially Germany, France, Scandinavia and Belgium. Some carried lighted candles, cupped against the wind and casting flickering lights on their prayerful faces.

Slowly they shuffled from wooden cross to wooden cross. Each one of the 14 crosses commemorated a point along Christ's way to Calvary, from the time he was condemned to death until his body was placed in the sepulcher.

The final cross stood against a high-walled shell of the ancient Roman temple of Venus.

PRAYERS ECHOED against the wall and re-echoed from the flood-lit Colosseum, directly across from the Palatine hill.

Earlier in the day Final Tenebrae—shadows—rites were held at St. Peter's Basilica and many

RUSSIA FREES DOCTORS CITED IN DEATH PLOT

Soviet Government States Charges Against 15 Proved False

MOSCOW, Saturday, April 4 (AP)—The Soviet Government announced today that 15 Soviet doctors accused in January of plotting assassination of Soviet leaders in years past have been freed and charges against them dropped.

It said the charges against them were proved false.

The announcement from the USSR Ministry of Internal Affairs said the accusers of the medical group were themselves being brought to justice.

The accusers now are charged with forbidden ways of obtaining evidence.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT was carried in all Moscow newspapers this morning.

It came a week after Premier Malenkov's regime announced amnesty for certain convicts in the USSR and an overhaul of the judiciary system.

The communique declared the doctors had been freed and completely rehabilitated after a verification had shown that the accusations had been based on untrue.

It added that "testimony" was obtained from the doctors by the investigating section of the former State Security ministry by strictly forbidden methods.

The Soviet Government—in Stalin's waning days—announced in January that nine doctors, some of them Jewish, had been charged with killing two Russian leaders and trying to kill others.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT said the nine had confessed ending the lives of Andrei A. Zhdanov and Alexander S. Scherbakov through faulty treatment of heart ailments. Zhdanov, a leading Politburo member, died four years ago at 52. Scherbakov died seven years ago at 44.

Governor Dewey Supports Judge Hall For Appointment to National GOP Post

ALBANY, N. Y., April 3 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York tonight threw his influence behind former Rep. Leonard W. Hall for Republican national chairman.

Dewey, one of the original backers of General Eisenhower for President, told a news conference that "the Republican party of New York is united in proposing Judge Hall for national chairman, and, subject to any preference the President may have, will support him for election to the office."

The New York Governor announced his support for the Nassau county surrogate and former New York congressman after a 30-minute private conference with Hall.

The endorsement gave Hall a big boost toward election by the GOP National committee Friday in Washington to the $32,500 a year national post, recently signed by C. Wesley Roberts of Kansas.

Dewey told newsmen that "needless to say, it would make me personally very happy to see Judge Hall elected in the light of our long personal friendship and association in public affairs."

Dewey was the Republican candidate for President in 1944 and 1948. His reported falling out with Hall was supposed to have stemmed from Hall's criticism of the Dewey campaign in 1948.

One Bill Reaches Governor's Desk

HARRISBURG, April 3 (AP)—More than 1500 bills have been introduced in the 1953 General Assembly but in the 14 weeks since the lawmakers first met only one measure has been passed by both houses.

A total 957 pet ideas of legislators or their constituents have been presented in the House. Of these, 33 have been approved by the 208-member chamber and sent to the Senate.

The Senate, with less than one quarter of the number of members, has seen the introduction of 403 bills—or nearly half as many as in the House. A total of 25 have met with Senate approval and now are before the other chamber.

The solitary measure on the desk of Gov. John S. Fine is a 262-page proposed codification of all the State's commercial laws, sponsored by Sen. John M. Walker (R-Allegheny).

Engineers Hurry 'Freedom Camp' Hoping for Occupants

MUNSAN, Korea, Saturday, the exchange of sick and wounded. April 4 (AP)—Engineers rushed touching off a series of Communist conciliatory moves.

"freedom camp" and the Eighth army mobilized helicopters for a big airlift in the hope that a quick exchange of sick and wounded prisoners will be arranged Monday at Pannunjom.

This armistice base town was bustling with activity. The "freedom camp" of tents and prefabricated buildings, complete with a mobile surgical hospital, was rising rapidly just outside town.

Convoys loaded with supplies needed to care for returned prisoners jammed the roads between Seoul and Munsan.

One week ago today, Red liaison officers handed a note to United Nations officers at Pannunjom accepting an offer for

US Employees Lose 'Coffee Hour' Break To New Regime

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—The Eisenhower Administration today struck its first blow at one of Washington's most popular institutions: The "coffee hour."

Secretary of the Navy Anderson ruled that all buildings in which Navy personnel predominates, civilian employees will not be permitted to go to the cafeterias for mid-morning or mid-afternoon coffee and snacks.

The American Federation of Government employees, an AFL union, immediately talked back: "The order, it said, is a blow to Government morale."

The coffee hour has come in for critical attention before. Several congressmen have protested that taxpayers' money is wasted by letting employees trample out for coffee.

BUT THE UNION argued the order issued by Anderson will not have the desired effect. Now, it said, workers will need more time for lunch, and this will mean the way the union figures it—that long lines will be waiting to be served. Therefore, the union said, more time would be lost than gained.

Although this is the first ruling on the coffee hour, there have been somewhat similar ideas elsewhere in the new Administration.

SILVER MEDAL TOURNEY ENDS CAGE SEASON

Two weeks of Pottstown's longest basketball marathon have ended. With the completion of the YMCA Silver Medal tournament Thursday night, the cage sport did its 1953 fade away with a splash of grandeur.

Mort Lieberman's Blocks of Norristown opened and closed the 18-game meet, showing four opponents along the way how a club performs that can win 29 out of 40 games. Fortunately, the quartet of Blocks' victims were all good teams and the all-star aggregation was required to play the game to the hilt to win.

Behind the scenes, Len Bernhardt, the YMCA's director of the tournament, performed his duties with all the poise of a professional promoter. Although many of the players came from distant places such as Philadelphia, Norristown, West Chester and Coatesville, practically every game was started on time.

Trying to appease the various teams in regards to scheduling brought out the diplomat in Bernhardt. He had to be firm, stand by his decisions and still try not to offend because good relations are necessary to insure other successful tournaments in future years.

With an eye on the cash register, Bernhardt rejected pre-tourney suggestions about holding the entire carnival at the Junior High gym. As it turned out only one overflow crowd developed at the Y floor and he made his move to the more wide open spaces at the right time. Possibly next year, if the playing talent is as good, spectator interest will be great enough to hire the Junior High for the entire tournament.

CERTAIN PLAYS and players stand out as we look back over the nine doubleheaders. With most of the best amateur and semi-pro talent in this section of the State congregated here, any cage fan who missed the event has reason to be disappointed.

Blocks ran into one of the best players in the tourney in its opening game. Big and aging Red Wilson and his left-handed hook shot could have upset the Blocks if he had received a bit of support from his Murray's mates from Phoenixville.

Another one-man team was Kutztown Hi-Y and its Bingo Corrigan. This husky failed to impress when he was playing here last December against Pottstown High, but he glittered in the center of his dull Hi-Y group.

Locally, lots can be said for Dave Ricketts, Bill Bayer, Al Rodolos, Mike Krizick, Denny Dennis, Bob Bedi, Harry Anderson and Merrill Shirey. They all helped carry their Pottstown teams through initial wins and URW won two before going down.

Ricketts scored 26 points in the first game and it appeared he was headed for his second straight most valuable player award. But too much afternoon baseball and a pressing crew of Marty's from Coatesville made the Y court seem smaller than usual as Dave found little room to move.

Bayer ranked among the best scorers, averaging 25 points in three games. One more game and he would have had a chance to beat out Jackie May who won the crown with 103 markers in four contests. Ernlex was the do-or-die team. The Knitters narrowly missed beating Jesse's in the semi-finals in one of the top games of the tournament. Ernlex was not a strong team but with Ken Miller at the helm it went a long way. On loan from the Perkiomen Indians, Miller did everything so well and with such apparent ease that he was judged the most outstanding player in the Silver Medal.

MARTY'S became the sentimental favorite by staging the tournament's greatest comeback in the second half of the semi-final twin-bill. The Blocks were precariously close to being tumbled for the first time since Mirabiles turned the trick at Christmas.

Herky Rubicam was the fair-haired boy to most of the crowd. He has perfected a driving jump shot that he shoots off the wrong foot. He lines it into the basket and against Blocks and Ernlex he was at his best.

Referee Charlie Coull is gathering a team of area players to enter in a Harrisburg tournament next week. He plans to take Miller and Rubicam, plus Stu Adams and Dave Heller, the one-time performers for Mirabiles, and other stars from the Norristown area including his brother Curt.

How true it is we don't know, but one rumor making the rounds was that Claude Gross (nee Clyde Butler in Philadelphia) is in line for a try with the Harlem Globetrotters. When Gross was on—and that was all too frequently for Mirabiles, Marty's and Jesse's—he looks capable of playing with any team in the country.

His teammate on the Christian Street YMCA team that won the national title over High Point, 82-75, Bob Gainer, proved to be one of the headiest players in the tournament. He picked up several fouls by just standing still and letting dribblers or drivers run into him.

THE CHANGE from the Y floor to the Junior High in the last two sets of games, cut down considerably on the outside shooting. Izzie Osherow, Joe Gilling, Stu Adams and Lew Anderson all had sizzling streaks at the Y.

But in the championship game, only one field goal was scored on a set shot. That was made by Gainer in the fourth quarter. Blocks has compiled an outstanding record when considering there isn't a real consistent set shot on the club. Osherow can hit at times, and probably Eddie Lyons, who missed the final two games, can hit on medium outside shots, but under the basket Bill Hewson, Hal Swayze, Gross and Gainer give the Liebmen explosive scoring power.

We scraped only the surface in mentioning the fine players who gave Pottstown its biggest and longest basketball show. With Bernhardt keeping the wires hot, another all-star event can be expected next year.

Jimmy McClane Wins His Second AAU Swimming Championship

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 3 (AP) — Jimmy McClane won his second Haven Swim club, into second national championship tonight by place.

Smith's time was 2:28.8. William Miller of Williston Academy (Mass.) was third and Walter Ocampo of the Mexico City Swim club was fourth.

Richard Thoman, New Haven swim club star who comes from Cincinnati, successfully defended his 100-yard backstroke championship with the winning time of 1:37.5. Bernard Kahn of the Ohrbach A.A. of Brooklyn was second in 1:38.8 and Lin Meiring of the Sooner (Okla.) Swim club, a University of Oklahoma athlete, was third in 1:39.4.

McClane, who won the 1500 meter title last night, trailed through most of the race but his closing sprint was too strong for his Yale teammate, Moore, and for Ron Gora, swimming unattached from the University of Michigan, who finished third.

McClane had six feet on Moore with Gora close behind. Moore took the early lead, pressed by Gora, with McClane in third place. McClane had a bad turn early in the race which put him under a handicap.

McClane, a 22-year-old Yale senior from Akron, O., representing the New Haven Swim club, has been under the shadow of his teammates until this year when he became his spectacular comeback. He was the winner of the 1500 meters at the 1948 Olympics but since then he hasn't fared so well.

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS are being held in Yale's luxurious Payne Whitney gymnasium. As the Big Ten stars are competing here, there is no team race because the New Haven Swim club, which includes all Yale men, is dominating the meet.

Jerry Holan, the Ohio State star swimming unattached, easily won the 220-yard breaststroke in 2:31.1. Jim Houston, 6-5 freshman from David Hawkins, the Harvard Freshman from Australia, was 15th in the individual single game score but was disqualified twice in his first five feet for making two illegal turns.

City Industrial Loop To Hold Meeting Tuesday Night

The City Industrial Baseball League will hold a formation meeting in the Pottstown Recreation Commission office at City Hall Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Bob Reis, director of recreation, has notified the managers of last year's teams and most are expected to attend.

The Montgomery Elks won both the regular season title and the playoff crown of the CIL the past Summer. The Elks will again enter a team but a new coach will be at the helm. Bill Barber who piloted the team in '52, is now a recreation director in York.

Some new entries are expected by Reis this year. It is believed Gene Kauler, coach at the Junior High will again direct the circuit.

Players who are interested in playing with a City league team should contact managers of the various clubs. The managers will be announced after the meeting Tuesday.

Charles Wants Bout With LaStarza

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3 (AP) — Ezzard Charles wants to fight Ronald La Starza now, to clinch his demand for a heavyweight title match with the winner of the champion Rocky Marciano-Jersey Joe Walcott bout.

Tom Tannas, co-manager of the former heavyweight champion, said Charles is ready to take on anybody who can be considered a contender.

Ezzard eliminated Rex Layne in convincing fashion here Wednesday night, battering the Lewiston, Utah, 203-pounder for a 10-round decision.

"We've never turned down a fight," said Tannas. "Ezzard wants to keep active, especially since the Marciano-Walcott match has been postponed to May 15."

As soon as I get back to Pittsburgh, I'm going to call Jim Norris (president of the International Boxing club) and try to arrange a fight with La Starza. He rates high behind Charles as a contender and I think the bout would be an attraction in New York City.

"WE'VE OFFERED La Starza fights twice, once when Charles was champion and again last year. The Dapper Dan club in Pittsburgh wanted to put it on as a big outdoor charity show. La Starza's manager turned us down both times. If he is going to continue being called a title contender, I think he should meet Charles."

Tannas, who planned to fly to Pittsburgh tonight, said if La Starza's manager refused to accept the offer, he would arrange a couple of matches for Charles as warm-ups for his expected chance at the title.

"Anybody who wants to fight Charles can step forward," he said. Charles, who was unmarked in the Layne encounter except for a bruised right hand, left by train today for his Cincinnati home.

BROOKSIDE COUNTRY CLUB OPENS COURSE TODAY

Dust off the clubs duffers and head for Brookside Country club to beat the rush.

Today it will be the official opening of the links. Greenskeeper Mike Sminsky completed the rolling and trimming of his fairways and greens yesterday as the weather offered fine working conditions.

For the past week, most of the golfing members of Brookside have been asking "when." The recent rainy spell hampered Sminsky from completing the job he has been doing all Spring.

Steve Grady, the club professional, said the course will be open permanently from now on with another full tournament schedule planned this Summer.

A few early arrivals were putting around the practice green yesterday afternoon, and some of the more energetic were hitting long and short irons on the driving course.

SMINSKY, who looks after Brookside like a doctor cares for his favorite patient, said only if heavy Spring storms occur will the course be closed for short periods. The greenskeeper also talked of installing a practice chipping green next year and moving the fifth tee to lengthen that hole.

He reports that the course is in wonderful playing condition and predicted a big turnout today.

SOMETHING new in tees for golfers is pictured. It is a flexible plastic tee which stands on three legs and holds the ball steady. Because of its resilience, it bounces away unharmed from the impact of a golf club. It is produced in Minneapolis.

PHS Golf Team Opens Wednesday

The Pottstown High golf team will have to jell in a hurry as the first match is scheduled at Brookside Country club next Wednesday afternoon.

Coach Bill McCabe has a fairly accurate line on his dozen or more players, but practice matches Monday and Tuesday will decide who tees off against Wilson High in the Central Penn league Wednesday.

With the course opening today, some of the club's junior members who are on the high school team will be among the early birds not trying to dig up too many worms.

Jack Bechtel, the No. 1 man last year, has been hitting long drives on the Brookside practice range. He also played a round at Phoenixville's Meadowbrook course the past weekend and will get in some links today and tomorrow.

Lenny Levin packs a good wallop for his size. He and Larry Lerch rank with Bechtel as the potential long hitters on the team. Levin and Lerch look like good bets for the No. 2 and 3 shots.

FIVE OR SIX other players are in a scramble for the fourth and fifth places on the team.

Mary Joan Czarick is again hitting the ball down the middle and her consistent play may influence McCabe to move her in ahead of some of her more erratic teammates.

Buffy Schoenley has all the motions of a good golfer and with lots of wrist action has been plastering long drives. Paul Stofko, Bob Drummeller, Bill Garrows and John St. Paul — but even though it was Morrell are the others battling for a first team berth.

McCabe will conduct nine hole matches Monday morning and afternoon to arrange a lineup for the season.

Dan Bucceroni Gains TKO Win In 8 Rounds Over Dave Davey

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP) — Lanky Danny Bucceroni of Philadelphia took one round to warm up and then handed husky Dave Davey of Seattle a terrific sheila to score an eighth round technical knockout in the main ten rounder at St. Nicholas Arena tonight. Bucceroni a 2 to 1 favorite, weighed 193½ to Davey's 204½.

Dr. Vincent Nardella ordered the bout halted after examining the 24-year-old West coaster at the finish of the eighth round.

"He's too exhausted to continue," said Dr. Nardella. Under New York rules it was listed as an eighth round TKO.

It was Davey's second straight defeat in the No. 3 heavyweight contender, and it was the first time he failed to finish in 25 pre fights.

Bucceroni barely nosed out the strapping farmer's son in their first meeting at the St. Nick's on Oct. 17, but tonight he made Davey look like a novice.

Davey was in the fight in the first round only. He won that big game guy, Bucceroni did everything else but. He bruised him around both eyes and in the seventh round landed 17 straight punches before Davey was able to connect with one.

Towards the close of the eighth, Bucceroni unloaded another series of 12 blows that sent Davey tottering to his corner at the bell.

Referee Ray Miller gave Davey just one round, the first. Judge Frank Forbes gave Davey the first and called the second even. Judge Jack Gordon gave Davey the first and called the seventh even. The AP score card had Bucceroni in front, 7-1, giving Davey the first round.

The crowd of 3452 paid $8637.

AKINS, Gonzalves Fight on TV Tonight CHICAGO, April 3 (AP) — A 10-round bout between lightweights Johnny Gonzalves and Virgil Akins marks the opening tomorrow night of nationally televised boxing programs from Rainbo Arena.

Promoters plan similar TV presentations about once a month. Tomorrow's bout will be telecast at 9 p. m. (EST) Pottstown time.

Gonzalves, of Oakland, Calif., will be making his Chicago ring debut. Akins, of St. Louis, dropped a recent decision to Johnny Saxton. His triumphs include wins over Jay Watkins, Luther Rawlings and Freddie Dawson.

Dave Haldeman, the flying farmer from Boyertown; Smokey Dengler, Reading's one-legged demon; Monk Keller and Mose Moore, a couple of local aces who can't seem to get all the kinks out of their engines, and Harry Moore in his new car are only a handful of the motor jockeys who can be counted upon to give the crowd an afternoon of thrills.

Phils Top Red Sox for 3d Overtime Victory

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 3 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox turned in a first-inning triple play today while losing their third extra-innings exhibition game to the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-4.

Connie Ryan and Richie Ashburn opened with singles against Boston starter Herschel Freeman. Then Johnny Wyrostek popped a bunt to first baseman Dick Gernert, who touched his sack to retire Ashburn and then threw to shortstop Milt Bolling, who nailed Ryan off second base to retire the side.

Kept in check by Freeman for seven innings, the Phils belted reliever Hector Brown for two runs to tie the count in the ninth and then assaulted southpaw Bill Benezet for two more tallies in the 10th.

Gernert drove in the first three Boston runs with a single and two long flies, and Del Wilber's third homer of the Spring accounted for the other Red Sox marker.

Smoky Burgess drove in the first two Philadelphia runs by belting Freeman for a homer and a single. Eddie Waitkus' double, sandwiched between singles by Del Ennis and Bobby Thomson leading the way with three. Starting a game for the first time since March 15, Thomson also stole home.

In addition to Lemon's homer, shortstop Ray Boone connected twice for the Indians, each time with one on. Hank Thompson hit the lone New York homer with two on in the fourth.

Senators Beat Reds
GREENWOOD, S. C., April 3 (AP)—The Washington Senators outlasted the Cincinnati Reds in a free-hitting, loosely played contest here today to grab a 9 to 8 victory, their second in a row.

The lead changed hands six times during the game, with a single by John Dixon, the last of two Senator pitchers, driving home Les Peden in the seventh inning with what proved to be the winning run.

Eddie Yost, with four straight hits, paced the Senators' 10 hit attack off three Redleg hurlers.

Eddie Erautt, Bubba Church, and Joe Nuxhall. The Reds pounded Al Sima and Dixon for 15 hits, including a two-run homer by rookie second baseman Johnny Temple.

Dodgers Rally to Win
ATLANTA, Ga., April 3 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers rallied for five runs in the eighth inning and overcame Milwaukee, 9-8, today for their fifth victory in seven games with the Braves.

A crowd of 4033 saw the Braves pile up a 6-4 lead on a pair of three run homers by Bill Bruton and Sid Gordon. Wildness by Dave Jolly gave the Dodgers their chance and Dick Williams, Roy Campanella, Don Thompson and Don Zimmer responded with hits as Dick Donovan failed to stop the rally.

Vern Bickford gave the Braves two runs, seven hits in the first four innings. Bob Milliken, hurling two scoreless frames after Ben Wade and Ronnie Lee threw gophers, did Brooklyn's best pitching. Jim Hughes allowed two runs in the ninth after George Shuba nudged a fly with two out.

Standing Room Only
LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 3 (AP)—The Kentucky Derby is a month away, but all but six of the 35,000 seats at Churchill Downs already have been sold for Derby Day.

The only seats left for the May 2 classic are singles behind posts. Downs officials said today.

However, more than half the Derby crowd sees the race standing up and general admission to the infield will be available right up to post time.

Satchell Paige of the St. Louis Browns is the oldest player in the major leagues. According to official records he was born Sept. 11, 1908.

State Extends Time For Treasure Hunt
SANTA FE, N. M., April 3 (AP)—The State has given Mrs. Ova M. Noss three more months to hunt for a fabulous treasure she believes is hidden in a huge cave in South-Central New Mexico.

Mrs. Noss, of Clovis, is carrying on a quest started by her late husband, M. E. "Doc" Noss, in 1941.

Noss told of exploring caverns along the Socorro-Donna Ana county line, and fable has it that old Spanish treasure supposedly hidden in a mine deep in the cave is worth as much as $2 million dollars.

Field inspectors for the State Land office have visited the site more than once since 1946, but have never gained access to the deep shaft which Noss said led to the caverns. They reported the shaft blocked by a cave-in at lower levels.

There's Hunter, Holloman, Larsen, Ippolito, Kellert and Littlefield. He proclaims. "Maybe you haven't heard of some of these boys, but you will. And then there's a couple of young fellows named Paige and Brecheen."

The name Hunter struck a familiar note. Bill is the 24-year-old shortstop for whom Veeck paid the Brooklyn Dodgers $100,000 in cash and three players in the largest deal ever made by the Browns. What about him?

"He's our shortstop. No question about it," Marion says. "He moves very well in the field, gets a quick jump on the ball. Right now his arm is a little sore, but they tell me he can throw as well as any shortstop."

"I don't know much about his hitting yet, but I'm satisfied he'll hit well enough. He's not much for power, the slap-type hitter. But he'll get on base."

Marion himself, for years Mr. Shortstop of the National league, is still listed on the Browns' active roster, but Marty doesn't fool anybody. Hunter is going to play shortstop and Marion will sit on the bench.

"I can't keep up with that kid," he says.

TWO OTHER infield positions are set. Bobby Young, the only re-against several major league teams that came through Hawaii and beat them easily."

Larsen, 6-foot-1, 210-pound right-hander from San Diego, is also known for his hitting talents. The Brownies themselves tell of drives of prodigious proportions he has hit during batting practice. Virgil Trucks, Duane Pillette and Bob Cain head Marion's staff with Bobo Holloman and Dick Littlefield, a pair of talented youngsters, given an excellent chance to win regular starting roles.

Marion feels that Harry Brecheen, his ex-Cardinal teammate, will help the Browns a great deal as an occasional starter and he is again counting on Satchell Paige in relief.

maining regular on the club purchased by Veeck in 1951, is a fix-ture at second base and Jim Dyck,

the St. Louis Browns and not be powerfully built right-handed hit-

come the Baltimore Orioles, what-ter, will be stationed at third.

"The only place in the infield where there's any real competition now is first base," Marion says. "Four guys are working for that job."

Marty named them—Roy Sievers, Dick Kyjowski, Frank Kellert and Dixie Uppright—and picked

Sievers as the man most likely to succeed. Sievers won rookie of fielder and has only recently been converted to first base.

THE BROWNS' No. 1 catcher is fiery, Clint Courtney and the Brownie pilot believes he ranks right behind Yogi Berra, all things considered. The bespectailed Texan batted .286 last year

The Browns have only six out-ably will carry all of them. Marion is figuring on Dick Kokos in left,

Johnny Groth in center and Vic

Wertz in right, with Hank Edwards, Don Lenhardt and Rocky Ippolito in reserve.

Pitching is where the Browns need the greatest help and Marion has high hopes his staff will become a formidable unit. He points to the addition of several newcomers who, he feels, will become major league stars this season.

The best-looking young

Mrs. Noss, of Clovis, is carrying on a quest started by her late husband, M. E. "Doc" Noss, in 1941.

Noss told of exploring caverns along the Socorro-Donna

Ana county line, and fable has it that old Spanish treasure supposedly hidden in a mine deep in the cave is worth as much as $2 million dollars.

Field inspectors for the State

Land office have visited the site more than once since 1946, but have never gained access to the deep shaft which Noss said led to the caverns. They reported the shaft blocked by a cave-in at lower levels.

There's Hunter, Holloman, Larsen, Ippolito, Kellert and Littlefield. He proclaims. "Maybe you haven't heard of some of these boys, but you will. And then there's a couple of young fellows named Paige and Brecheen."

The name Hunter struck a familiar note. Bill is the 24-year-old shortstop for whom Veeck paid the Brooklyn Dodgers $100,000 in cash and three players in the largest deal ever made by the Browns. What about him?

"He's our shortstop. No question about it," Marion says. "He moves very well in the field, gets a quick jump on the ball. Right now his arm is a little sore, but they tell me he can throw as well as any shortstop."

"I don't know much about his hitting yet, but I'm satisfied he'll hit well enough. He's not much for power, the slap-type hitter. But he'll get on base."

Marion himself, for years Mr. Shortstop of the National league, is still listed on the Browns' active roster, but Marty doesn't fool anybody. Hunter is going to play shortstop and Marion will sit on the bench.

"I can't keep up with that kid," he says.

TWO OTHER infield positions are set. Bobby Young, the only remaining regular on the club purchased by Veeck in 1951, is a fix-ture at second base and Jim Dyck,

the St. Louis Browns and not be powerfully built right-handed hit-

come the Baltimore Orioles, what-

ter, will be stationed at third.

Dawn Service Slated Churches to Conduct Special Programs at Services Tomorrow

An Easter dawn service will be held at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Herford Mennonite church, Bally, with the pastor, Rev. Wilmer S. Shelly, in charge.

There will be special musical numbers by a trio and an instrumental trio. The climax of the program will be a playlet entitled, "The Secret of the Garden."

A breakfast will be served by the homemakers class of the church for all those who wish to stay and then attend the morning Sunday school hour at 9 o'clock, and church service at 10 o'clock.

During the church service, Rev. Shelly will use as his theme, "I Am Mary Magdalene."

During the evening service, a joint meeting of the four Christian Endeavor societies will feature a 45-minute picture of "Men-O-Lan," the recent grounds of the Eastern District conference.

DEATHS—FUNERALS

LAWRENCE J. FREY, 65, died Thursday in his home in BALLY. Born in Weissport, the son of the late Jacob and Anna (Fisher) Frey, he was a retired butcher.

He was a member of Most Blessed Sacrament Catholic church, Bally, and the St. Joseph's and Holy Name societies of the church.

Besides his widow, Lillie A. (Spar) Frey, he leaves two sons, Russell and Paul, Allentown; three daughters, Verna, wife of George Signarovich; Rosella, wife of Frank Harsch, and Edna, wife of Ferman Hoch, all of Allentown; two brothers, Frank, Boyertown, and Earl, Pennsburg; one sister, Mabel, wife of Edward Erb, Congo, and ten grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 8 a. m. from a funeral home in East Greenville, with a solemn high requiem mass at 9:30 a. m. in Most Blessed Sacrament church. Burial will be in Sacred Heart cemetery, Allentown.

Meadville Mother Finds Son Dead in Refrigerator

MEADVILLE, April 3 (P)—Mrs. Merle Williams opened an unused electric refrigerator in her home yesterday and found her 10-year-old, Frederick, dead inside.

Dr. Frederick H. Muckinhoup, Crawford county coroner, said the boy suffocated. Mrs. Williams said her son apparently used the refrigerator's wire racks to lock himself inside the empty box.

Charles Wise to Quit as Head of Friendship Company

After serving as president of the Friendship Hook and Ladder company, Boyertown, for a total of 18 years, Charles D. Wise, who will be 74 years of age in July, declined renomination to the top post of the company, at the company's monthly meeting held in the fire hall.

Wise has served the company as president for the past 14 years and served another four years prior to that time.

"Charlie," as he is known to his many friends, is living semi-retired since his resignation as a custodian in the Boyertown High school in June, 1954. He works several hours each morning doing janitorial duties for Bause's Drug store, Boyertown.

In stepping aside, Wise said, "Although my health is good and I feel fine, I want to step aside and let some of the younger men perform these various duties."

TWO MEN were nominated to the president's post. They are Herbert S. Schultz and Ernest Weinberger.

Schultz, for many years financial secretary and then assistant financial secretary of the company during the past year, is street commissioner of Boyertown.

Weidner, who several years ago conducted a grocery store in the borough, is employed at the Boyertown Auto Body Works.

John Stark was the only new man nominated to a post, that of assistant financial secretary, succeeding Schultz.

Other officers renominated to their respective posts were: First vice president, Norman Hertzog; second vice president, Charles Kline; recording secretary, Russell H. Brooke, who will be starting his tenth term in that position.

Assistant recording secretary, J. Robert Chittick; financial secretary, Lawrence Mest; treasurer, Jacob Rhoads; assistant treasurer, Jacob Rhoads; assistant treasurer, A. Willet Geschwind.

Open House Planned At St. Columbkil's Tomorrow Afternoon

Open house will be conducted in St. Columbkil's Catholic church, South Chestnut street, Boyertown, tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

All persons are invited to inspect the new church edifice which was recently enlarged and redecorated at a cost of $37,500. Members of the congregation will be on hand to greet everyone and show interested persons around the church.

The Rev. B. H. Creamers is rector of the church since its inception in August, 1922.

Her 151 Descendants Mourn Death Of Matriarch Mary B. Fick at 87

Mrs. Mary B. Fick, 87, Monocacy Hill, Birdsboro RD 2, who has 151 direct descendants — which could easily be an informal record for the Pottstown area — died Thursday afternoon at her home.

"She loved every one," a granddaughter, Mrs. Luther Kline, declared. Mr. and Mrs. Kline lived at Mrs. Fick's home.

The widow of Jeremiah W. Fick, she had seven children; 43 grandchildren; 63 great-grandchildren and 38 great-great-grandchildren—all living. In addition, there have been several deaths in the younger generations.

The accuracy of the 151 total was largely the result of the detailed record that Mrs. Fick kept in her old family Bible until three years ago, when failing health made this impossible for her to continue. Daughters brought the record up to date for her.

SEVERAL TIMES in the past few years, plans have been made for a reunion at which Mrs. Fick could be with all 151 descendants at the same time. Mrs. Kline recalled, but each time, illness or death in the large family forced postponement of the plan.

Mr. Fick died in 1930. After his death, she moved to the Monocacy Hill home. They spent their married life on large farms in Chester and Berks county. She was born in Alsace township, Berks county.

Until a decade ago, she had been active in working in her garden and crocheting rugs. She was a member of the Lutheran church. Her surviving children are: Temple; Esther, wife of John Baer.

donate to hospitals and other worthy community causes and I believe they will go along with this plan."

Gulden pointed out there is $400 in the budget for tick control, and compared that figure with the $10,000 appropriated by the small city of Hollywood, Fla.

He explained the difference, "Hollywood is surrounded by water and when the wind blows in from the West a deluge of mosquitoes invade the city."

The borough manager said there were several types of fog machines which the committee should investigate.

the fire early the past month. Woodley promised he would call Bush immediately the next time a Doehler truck came to the dump with hot material.

The garbage collector said the March 2 fire occurred just minutes after a Doehler truck unloaded a pile of debris.

Bush said the firm might have been responsible and might not have been. He pointed out, "We certainly weren't responsible for the fire spreading the way it did."

JOHN FRANK, committee chairman said the fire wouldn't have started had Woodley been doing his job, but commended the garbage collector for his record at the dump since assuming the job.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden said Woodley is totally responsible to the borough for the dump. He said, "I think he's done a pretty good job policing the place in the past couple of years."

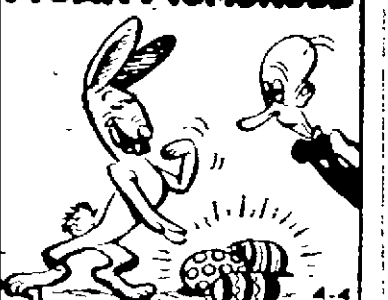

The borough manager and committee members emphasized the delay on the getting water onto the smoldering fire.

Wedding Preview Given With Miniature Dolls

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 3 (U)—Eighteen-year-old Mrs. John F. Cook often gives her altarboard friends a preview of their wedding by dressing up her miniature seven-inch dolls to duplicate the costumes of the wedding party.

The planning is complete down to flower girl, ring bearer and preacher. She sews the dresses of scraps of cloth and lace in the color to be used by the bride. Bits of tulle, caught to pieces of colored pipe cleaner, form the headpieces and veils. Her hobby is usually a feature at pre-nuptial showers.

Man Balks at Tests In Rape-Murder Quiz

TULSA, Okla., April 3 (U)—A young Cherokee Indian whose statements authorities said have shown "discrepancies" balked today at undergoing a lie detector test in the investigation into 11-year-old Phyllis Jean Warren's murder.

It was the second time Buster Youngwolfe, 21, had refused to submit to such questioning since the Warren girl disappeared from her home more than three weeks ago.

Both rushed downstairs to find a kerosene stove in the kitchen was on fire.

While Mrs. Turlington, "phone firemen, Turlington cut off the fuel supply to the stove.

Firemen from the Empire Hook and Ladder company and the Good Will fire company found the blaze out when they arrived on the scene.

No damage was done by the blaze.

Since Phyllis Jean's body was turned up by the digging of her father's dog, Youngwolfe has again denied any knowledge of her slaying.

He remained in jail without charge.

Tattooist's King Dies At Home in London

LONDON, Saturday, April 4 (U)—George Burchett, 80, self-styled king of the tattooists, died at his home last night.

Burchett tattooed the Chinese dragon which adorns the chest of Denmark's King Frederik IX. He also tattooed Tartan socks on the legs of an American customer.

Another of his clients had "I Love Emily" tattooed on his bald head.

But in his 50 years as a tattooist, Burchett's most frequent commission was a garland of roses with "mother" inscribed in the center.

Burchett's son, Leslie, 47, carries on the family art in a small shop near Waterloo station.

No Windows in Woods—So Judge OK's Divorce

DETROIT, April 3 (U)—Clarence E. Stalton won an uncontested divorce today from his wife, Elizabeth.

"She wanted to go and live in the North woods, and I didn't know any way I could support her there," Stalton complained. He said she left him on Jan. 5.

"And what sort of work do you do?" asked Judge John V. Brennan.

"I'm a window washer in the tall buildings downtown," Stalton said.

Students Got Whiskey Under Old Agreement

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., April 3 (U)—The William and Mary Quarterly has reprinted an agreement, dated Dec. 20, 1822, which may shed some light on student-teacher relationships of that day.

"Article of agreement between Wm Gill junior and his scholars. The said Gill on the first part doth agree to give his scholars two gallons and a half of Whiskey. His scholars on the second part doth agree to find biscuits and cyder, and you to give them one day at Christmas, which you are to make up at the expiration of the quarter. The whiskey to be delivered to them at the school house."

Mrs. George Arbers

ice was bigger than the past year, as was the case in all churches. Junior choirs from St. John's Reformed, Trinity Reformed, and Zion's Reformed performed. Playing the organ were Myrna Fry, Mrs. Hazel Rutter and Mrs. Norman G. Lepperd.

THE PASTORS who took part in the three-hour service at Emmanuel Lutheran church were the Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse, the host church; the Rev. Edward S. Horn, St. James Lutheran; the Rev. George F. Eichorn, St. John's Lutheran, South Pottstown; the Rev. A. S. Hanson, St. Peter's Lutheran, Stowe; the Rev. Eugene B. Umberger, Transfiguration Lutheran; the Rev. Edgar S. Brown Jr., Grace Lutheran; and the Rev. Edgar M. Cooper, New Hanover Lutheran.

The Rev. Krouse said that the crowd of 500 that attended was larger than the past year's. Mrs. William S. Hellyer played the organ for the whole three-hour service.

At St. Aloysius Catholic church, where more than 1500 persons attended morning, afternoon and evening services, four sermons were given at the three-hour long evening service by the Rev. John J. O'Connor, naval chaplain. The services were devoted to the "Three Hours of Agony" of Christ.

Prayers, sermons and congregational singing took up most of the service, while the last 45 minutes were devoted to the tenebrae services.

THE EARLIEST services of the day were at St. Peter's Catholic church where Mass of the Pre-Sanctified was celebrated at 7:30 o'clock.

Tenebrae services were held at 7:30 o'clock last night.

At St. Gabriel's Catholic church in Stowe the mass was started at 8 a. m. Stations of the cross were conducted in the afternoon at 3, 4:30 and 7:30 p. m.

At Holy Trinity Catholic church mass of the Pre-Sanctified took place at 9 a. m. Stations of the cross were held at both 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. The sermon at the evening service was preached by the Rev. Joseph Sofka, Philadelphia.

SERVICES STARTED at St. Michael's Ukrainian, Stowe, at 9 a. m. and included a procession to a replica of the tomb of Jesus.

At St. John's Catholic church of the Greek rite, the day's observance started at 7:30 a. m. A short evening service was held at 7:30 p. m.

Only evening services were conducted at Holy Trinity Russian Orthodox. They started at 7 p. m.

In another joint service, four Protestant churches combined at St. Paul's Reformed church, Stowe, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock.

PARTICIPATING WERE, besides the host church, St. Peter's

Lutheran; St. John's Reformed; and Brethren in Christ.

In other services, Grace Lutheran held a special children's devotion at 9:30 a. m.

Trinity Evangelical held traditional Friday communion services at 7:30 p. m.

First Brethren was host to congregations of Coventry and Harmonyville Brethren churches at the Parkerford church at 8 p. m.

THE CANTATA, "Seven Last Words of Christ," was presented at St. John's Reformed church at 7:45 p. m.

Other evening services were presented last night at Grace Lutheran, Salem EUB, Transfiguration Lutheran, St. James Lutheran, Emmanuel Lutheran, St. John's Lutheran, South Pottstown, and St. Peter's Lutheran, Stowe.

Wife Takes Husband Back After Escapade

LOS ANGELES, April 3 (AP)—A husband who left his wife and three children to run away with the wife's younger sister was home again today, contrite and forgiven. Mrs. Margaret Morgan, 30, agreed to take him back after conferences with a judge and an attorney. She had started divorce proceedings against Grover B. Morgan, 30, a sheet metal company foreman, who admitted that he fell in love with the sister, Mrs. Mary Clarke, 24, when she visited the Morgan home.

Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle and attorney Ralph Rosenstock persuaded Mrs. Morgan to take Morgan back when he pleaded that

YOUR GEM STORY FOR TODAY

Mr. Robert Hartman of 1019 Terrace Lane in Pottstown writes, "I have read in many industrial journals that science has been able to synthesize the Ruby. Could you tell me how to tell the synthetic from the genuine?"

A good question, Mr. Hartman, but for the benefit of all our readers we first had better explain just what a synthetic really is.

Science has been able to synthesize only several of 90 gem species for commercial use. The principal ones are Spinel, Beryl, Rutile, and Corundum of which Ruby is a variety. The synthetic Ruby has the same optical and physical properties as does the genuine—the same color, hardness, dispersion, refraction, etc. However, two things vary. The genuine has a straight strain or grain, whereas the synthetic has a curved one. Any imperfections in the genuine will be angular or jagged whereas any imperfections in the other will be oval or rounded.

The genuine Ruby is the most expensive of all gemstones, even more so than the Diamond. Synthetics, however, may be purchased for only a few dollars per carat. As you can easily see, it's very difficult to distinguish between the two.

We recommend that you see a Jeweler schooled in the science of the Ruby when purchasing or looking for one. Too often the uneducated jeweler is fooled by unscrupulous or unknowing wholesalers. Therefore we strongly advise that you had better know your Rubies if you don't know your Rubies.

See you next Saturday,
